Well, for those of you who remember me, I'm back. For those of you who don't, I'm still here none the less.

Anyway, I was convinced to finish up an old project, and so I've decided to, but I've run into some problems; I can't import my terrain into LevelEdit. I can add the preset just fine, but when I go to make it, it simply doesn't work. All the default presets work (Ones that should, anyhow), but anything that I try to import has this problem.

It's probably just something simple I've forgotten since it's been awhile since I've worked with LevelEdit, but does anyone know?

Edit: Ah yes, and viewing them in W3DViewer works fine, so I'm guessing the trouble is with LevelEdit.

And you have it in the package sub-folders?

BTW, Hello.

Tried Re-Exporting or isn't that possible? Reneming the W3D after export can cause problems too.

Nope, I haven't renamed anything. I just exported one of the WS models though (Humm-Vee) and that worked importing it as a simple object, I tried making just a box though, and that didn't.

I'm great Imdg8one, how are you?

Yeah, it was the over 15 characters thing, thanks Laeubi

Oh, and if anyone's wondering what I'm making...I'll just say that it's a famous lobby....
