It could be possible by using the subterrain APC script written for the reborn mod. The same script could be used for under water vehicles. It depends who's doing the scripting on the mod though weather they will impliment it. Also will the theif, spy and tesla coil scripts be in the next release because the theif script would be a cool addition to the mod.

I don't think the subapc script is needed. Don't you just need an invisible blocker or something above the water, and make the sub a VTOL vehicle?

thats what i said. but they just want it on water. so i guessing there gonna let subs in the water and put vec blocks all around the shore, so tanks don't climb in the water and have a pool party . and make it stealth to simulate Underwater effect.

I have decided against posting on the Ren Alert Foums, because there are so many gay n00bs over there, but I do have a question.

Since this is an expansion pack. Are you guys going to redo the opeing movie? Just an idea, can you include the original opeing movie from Red Alert without the Einstein part? Or have you guys got your own, but you won't tell us.

Interesting question. It's not something we have considered because we consider the mod gameplay to be more important, but if we can get it done, we'll have some sort of *short* intro movie. You can kiss the EA movie logo goodbye.

Whatever happened to the exploding barrels, damage causing barb wire, and destroyabe walls. These would be cool on Zama. and don't tell me that you didn't do them because I saw them.

Because you waist good forum space for what you think is so good and funny. Just because it uses the Fuck word or what ever. That tells me your a little juvenile. And maybe a delinquent. You bad mouth them but yet continue to play and buy their games. Tells me your also a hypocrite.

hahaha. actually, i no longer buy EA games. and i don't like it because they say fuck like 8 times or whatever. i thought it ws amusing because they copied the exact layout of the ea website and because it just kinda amused me. but whatever.
