Turn off the checkmark for "only show servers in my country". There are still plenty on GameSpy.

yeah
thats exactly what i was thinking, 20cnd for a pretty fun game (im on level 3 now and its just amazing, the physics suck tho) I cant understand why the reviews were so poor. I have generals and i must say its a huge piece of shit, the other command and conquer all share a story in common and this one its just amazing to control the units i loved 8years ago when i bought the original c&C.

sorry for the rant

anyway ill see ya online tomorrow hehe

Hell yeah! you gota buy this. Multiplayer will keep you coming back for more. (If its the single player you want, maaaybe you should reconsider) Also, yes, you have to untick "servers located in my country" and you will find loads of servers.

Is it played? Well we all thought planetside coming out would kill renegade but for some reason it made it live. There are now more servers than ever and even less lag

I like to play ren, because in this game I have a good chance of winning: Some days i can barly even shoot, i just cant move the mouse fast enough and there is fuck all I can do about it. On days like that I cant hit a fucking thing unless it just happens to stand still. Not that it bothers me.

I can blow up buildings. I can drive tanks. I can win games. So can many others just like me. I wouldnt bother with planetside.

Yup, Renegade is great game. The demo was soo addictive, that it became like drug;) But then, there were less, and less demo servers, and it was becomming harder and harder to find good servers in demo, so I had to switch to full version . I still like the game, even if I don't play it veri often, becuase of lagg (I guess that My pentium III 733, 128 MB SDRAM, 16MB NVIDIA TNT/pro, ADSL is not good enough for generals). So I play Counter Strike more often, and that one has no lagg at all.
