The easy way to destroy it is easy.
as the tower is small, engineers had to squeeze in to repair the MCT.
:twisted: HEHE...the fun part, the door stays open and your could use any vehicle especially MLRS to aim right through the door and kills many engineers or techy repairing the airstrip.
:rolleyes: after they are toasted bread you or your ally could simply destroy the airstrip without difficulty in destroying it with engys inside.

oh and did you also know that the obelisk is really small, so what you do is get in a med tank or mrls and kill all the engis inside and then get your partner to finish it off for you hahaha j/m man.

No shit! I hate it when ppl call others n00bs for making mistakes in a GAME. They have to learn just like everyone.. even the best at ren were n00bs learning once before. Calling others n00bs are from one man army ppl who think they alone can win games and aren't around to help. Thats the n00bishness of vets.

well if u want to talk about vech tricks like this (and this one isn't event that good / true) i like these mrls front foor of hand of nod, kills alot of ppl, and hurts the engineers OR lunch misiles from outside in threw the windows at the MCT!

light tanks vs refinery / guard tower, your can drive up to the door to make it open and shoot the MCT, drive back and forth to open n close this is a personal fav of mine, stealth tanks infront of doors, jsut think, walk out, and splat, this could be considered spawn camping, but hey, its fun
