I know this is not renegade related, but this is great news for all the rugby league fans out there, The is a rugby league game coming to PS2 and possibly other consoles and PC.
I'm not sure if Americans know what Rugby League is.
Madtone,I'm sure you know what Rugby League is.

Read this!

Quote:Rugby League

Are you ready for the announcement that all true blooded Aussies have been waiting for? Yes diggers, there's a rugby league game coming out on the PlayStation 2 and it promises to be a ball tearer...literally!

The game is being developed by a young outfit in New Zealand called SIDHE Interactive and will be hitting store shelves in October this year. The game will include 2003 players and team rosters and State of Origin has been confirmed as a feature of the game. According to HES, the publishers of the game, Internationals and Super League are still being negotiated for the game's final release. People can add their own players and the players' jerseys will look, according to HES, "very real" with appropriate numbering and sponsors. In game commentary will also add to the realism of the game. Fifteen Australian and New Zealand stadiums are presently planned for inclusion in the game and weather conditions such as rain will also be included. Day and night games will be featured and players will also suffer injuries just like in the real game. Players can be injured so badly that they can be out for several games.

PlayStation 2 owners will no doubt be very exited to hear about this development as they have been screaming for a rugby league game for years. We'll have more news and screenshots for the game as they come to hand.

YAY! i am so happy now.

here are some Screen Shots of it.

I dont think any americans care.
But i do!!!

Well atleast you favior Union over League, I didn't want to be roaming the streets of brisvagas just to slap some sence into you League is a pussy game, Don't like it. I used to play union when I was at school.. and ... well.. after being rucked i dont know how many fucking times. I believe League to be a game for the chicks. (Don't ask what I think of AFL)

But playing this on consoles and PC's.... to me that just doesn't seem right. You dont get the same enjoyment out of it as you do playing it (and leaving treads on some guy in a ruck )

I also played Union at school last year in year 6, i was hooker (lol) and captain.
In N.S.W we made it too the State Semi-Final and lost 21-20

Hey, Madtone, do you have trials for State teams and stuff like that?, i made it into the Under 12's N.S.W Rugby League team, as Second row.
We made it into the final against Queensland, our 5/8 Broke his arm just before half time when a MASSIVE Tongan fella tackled him.
We still won though, i was so happy

Course we have state trials!!! I was going to queensland trials but then i was told there is no point due to my actually leaving to go back to england tommorrow!!!!

But i love my UNION!!!!!! Union rocks, i only play league when im with people who don't know the rules of union.

i used to play for the under 17's breakaway, also im one of the best kickers (try and beat my record of half pitch, mid left kick, straight through the middle of the posts!!!)

also played as winger, flanker and frontrow.

but im going back to the UK for 4 months, going to keep working on my kicking and also gonna work even more on my speed!! im one of the very few good kicking, fast running forwards..

but when i get back to aussie im going to start playing again, and work on my game and try to get in for state.
