Created an internal tool, decided to release publicly.

Get The Setup Here
http://www.renevo.com/Downloads/RenEvo_SE.exe

A utility to browse .mix, .pkg, and .dat files to listen/extract/and view the .wav files.

Any Problems, email Bugs@RenEvo.com

If you make a new version later, please, make it be able to do the same thing with mp3.'s.

That's a nice job, but you do know XCC Mixer can do the same thing? :oops:

as i said, this was just an originally planned internal build only, but i decided to go ahead and let it out publicly... on of my staff needed it to make VOX in some songs he is creating, and this is alot easier to use than XCC for people not familiar with it.

Rare occasion crash on play, most likely due to the winmm.dll not returning any type of time or position of the track, if you don't know what im talking about, don't worry, it is fixed, and i am testing it internally now.

Thanks,
Dante

And just how, exactly, do you "view" .wav files? o_o

Quote:listen/extract/and view the .wav files.

You could view the waveforms, but I don't think this supports that.
