There is a lot of shit happening.
1. Aimbot or something that makes body shots headshots
2. Some wierd thing to do with nukes where you can disarm them through walls.

i think we really might have a problem here: some one out there has managed to create an "AIMBOT" that lets you hit targets anywhere on the feild with a head shot. really guys think about it is it really possibal to just set into a randomly picked game that just happens to have the best snipers in renegade?

No because else you could camp in your base with a blackhand sniper and you would constantly see "player x killed player y player x killed player y player x killed player y player x killed player y player x killed player y player x killed player y "

And i haven't heard of those reports so i think it's more some guy who's good with the clickbot.

I've bought it up twice. The first time was the post where I originally posted it. Feel free to use it when appropriate, say when someone asks you if your using an aimbot.

i dont seem to understand that.

also i want to say how a good aim bot click bot could be made but i fear that my ideas havent been used yet and some one might make it and domitait the renegade world.
