I'm unable to get to <http://www.renegadeforums.com>. I'm on a business T1 and have tried several times. Pinging n00bstories.com works fine (100% success) but I get 0% success for <http://www.renegadeforums.com>. I am able to connect fine using the <http://www.n00bstories.com/renforums> URL just not the other one. This is the first time this has happend so I wanted to bring it up.

I saw this too (yesterday) but after refreshing a few times, I got a "page is down for maintanance".

They were upgrading the forums or something like that

Yeah exactly, it says the site is under maintenance and will be back up in one hour, so "keep checking back"

You can also try <http://www.renforums.com>

I'll ask someone I know if I can host the domain redirection on his servers instead of GoDaddy.com.

I'll also post news on n00bstories about the alternatives.
