hey guys.

well i have been caught out, and now its time for me to fess up.

A few of the models on ModX were not created by me. They were downloaded from various free 3d models sites. And now that i have been caught out, now i need to say im sorry everyone for the trouble i've caused, but there is no way im leaving. Like i said not all of the models i uploaded to ModX i downloaded, most of them i created my self. Im not actually a bad modeler, infact im a preety good one as it happens.

And from now on, im going to build my reputation up the truthfull way upload and showing models i created my self 100% by me.

Now throw all the flames at me what you must, but no matter what... im not leaving.

Im here to stay.

Now im not expecting "oh its ok, we forgive you", thats not what i expect at all, but as a very wise and great person said to me:

Quote:instead of being remembered as a plagiarizer, wouldn't you rather be rememberd as an honorable person that made a mistake?

And my answer to that is yes, i want to be remembered as a honorable person that made a mistake. And im going to stay here and work my way from the bottom the hard and proper way.

So expect to see better and 100% created by me coming your way soon.

Yes, it is unfortunate that this has happened, and alot of trust in your direction has been lost.

but, with this being said.

humans make mistakes, and not recognizing this fact only goes to prove that you can't accept people for being what they actually are, human.

MadTone has admitted to this, say what you will, but he is still a good person, and only proves it thereby just saying this.

I have had alot of dealings with MadTone in the recent past, and he can model good items, just got caught up in the freedom of it all, and the fact that anyone can download, change a readme, and reupload somewhere else is albeit too easy, make yourself better, learn from those free models, but don't distribute them as your own.

MadTone in my eyes is welcome in the community as an active contributor.

I believe you Madtone, and I know that you won't do it again.
You honored this community more than once, so keep going, and don't stop...If you get what I mean.

Michelle's heart doesn't remain with you, but Ice's one does...

Unlike AllGusto, who never admitted to being a thief (Even though everyone knew he stole everything he could), you admitted to it and will change your ways.

I have no beef with you.

Admitting this shows a great deal of character. I don't care if you used models which are free at all. As long as my Renegade looks good, and you've put the work in to make it look good, thats all that really matters.

Nonetheless, it takes alot to admit when you're wrong, and there are no hard feelings. You still rock

No, I'd tell people like Allgusto, and perhaps CaptKurt too piss off and leave. THEY deserve it. Both of which have been banned from Clan FUD servers for existing.

At least you have the guts to admit what you did.

Not many people can do that. *looks at AllGusto*
I've even heard now from quite a few people that he uses the Alt+F4 exploit in Generals. :rolleyes:

Anyway, you're forgiven.

Will you please take the time to spell and use grammar? The first line of your sentence makes no sense.

The x's are decration? I don't care. I pointed out a fact.

And a very tasteless and tactless joke it was, too.

Seriuosly, to tell you the truth, I don't give a rats ass if you plagiarized. Cause to me its just one of those things you just let pass and forget about it.

Atleast you admitted to your mistakes. And thats what a big man does. Not be a coward and run from them. And I respect and honor you for that.

I haven't played Generals in a long time, but my guess would be closing the program through Alt+F4 gives the player a disconnect instead of a loss.

And Madtone: Admitting it was the noble and honorable thing to do, I wonder how many people would do the same thing when placed in your shoes.
