I had a map file that I made for Modern Warfare. Both the original and the backup got corrupted! How can I get them back?!?!?! I worked for SOOOO FUCKING LONG ON THIS! Please help me!

(I've tried merging, x-ref, everything I can think of)

Did you check all your autoback.gx files in the gmax\autoback directory?

I found some backup files, but they are in .gx or .bak format. How do I open them??

Just visited the Modern Warfare site to see whats been happening lately. It looks like it is coming along well at the moment. Just one thing about the site though, have you guys heard of JPEG compression? The screenshots that nearly 99% of visitors will look at are nearly 1MB in size as a BMP file and thats going to take a good few minutes to view on a 56k modem. Get the webmaster to compress them to 100kb JPEG or smaller and then a lot more visitors will be happy, it also saves you a lot on bandwidth and webspace.

Wow, thanks GeneralHavoc. I'll talk to Vlad and Bear to see what we can do.
