I've listed off the problems with it so many times, and it's funny because almost nothing has been fixed.

I thought it was alright with a few nifty little features, but some of the textures and models are horrible, along with some scripts. like the tick tank deployment. wtf is all that about? It has huge potential but its knocked down by some nasty looking stuff.

(Yes I have played it)

Edit: I will give it the benefit if it just being the beta. It still has room for much improvement.

Reborn is not shit, Reborn is an excellent modification, no offence but compared to RenAlert it's graphically superior in models and effects - (comparing the two betas) - RenAlert might have improved.

Sure it has its faults and bugs, but that's why it's beta still - I look forward to the final release and hopefully bug free.

Thats a point, the last beta for Reborn was ages ago. I know for sure it was before Jonathan Wilson did the scripts for their modification. It seems strange to post your comments about the beta that took place months ago. I would have thought you would have posted this when they started the beta 2 testing. Any reasons?

Actually, no, didn't you read the part where Dante asked PUBLICALLY for the mod itself, and y'all gave it to him?

There is no "illegal" download for your fucking beta... it's just a fucking beta that has only copyrights on it and it's already using copyrighted material from others, namely myself, upon inspection of your beta files.

Not only that, but you have no authority to tell who can and cannot download it... Sorry, but you're shit outta luck. You'd better be happy that people are actually playing it... now you see the diehard people left over because everyone else is leaving your modification. It explains the surge in popularity for RenAlert considering your forums are almost totally dead.

Aircraftkilleryou pass off your lack of work and enthusiasm for "we're in beta! You can't insult it because it'll get fixed!"

You are one to talk about entusiasm....

I wonder if that news post you posted on CNCDEN is still in the archives....

You know, the one where you publically declare that you are tired of working on this crap RenAlert mod (your words, not mine) and that you will finish it when you get the time.

And in the end it took Dante to come in and finish all the work, invent all the new things to make it an expansion and even beat you (metaphorically speaking) into shape to start working again.....

anyways ACK, in havocman's words on TS "Mr. Criticism" which by reading this, makes me think that is more true maybe when the full version of reborn is finished, you can start tellin us how bad it is, right now its just in the beta, and there will always be some bugs, but they have been doing a good job so far as in the vehicle models, and some of the char models and the buildings, so plz just leave it at that.

theres no reason to criticise stuff just because u didnt make it

Cypher, wow, I posted something on C&C Den, that means you're right! All I recall posting was that the beta would take a long time to do considering I was compiling everything and having to ship it all out by myself, which meant I wasn't giving another release date.

[REHTSpirit]ACK: Things have been fixed. Heard of a thing called "patch notes"...?

Sure, and that's what was said last time... except the problems just got worse, with some never even being fixed at all.

What I find hilarious is that you guys deleted the huge bug list that Dante posted on your forums...

LOL

ROFL!

I still don't see the point of the initial post.....

Could someone create one focusing on the bad points of Ren Alert so there is no bias involved

Alas, the bad points have been fixed or are in the process of being fixed... compared to Reborn's "We'll fix whatever we want to fix because we don't care about you" attitude.

Nice selective memory you got there ACK....

Too bad that CNC DEN has no news archive (at least none that I can find).

Oooh..... ACK is talking about attitude.

The guy that starts a topic all about how he single handedly saved Renegade, all by his lonesome (yes, I know it repeats itself).

The guy that usually just flames you when you ask him a simple question.

The guy that flames people that give excuses on being killed in Renegade, while himself constantly posting "3v1" "2v1" "gangbangv1" when he gets killed.

The guy that always spots the faults but would never lift a finger to help out.

ACK is talking about attitude. Now that's irony....

If you don't know what the fuck you're talking about, Cody, go take it up the ass from Creed3020 again and STFU thanks...

thats just wrong... i didnt need that image in my head, thanks a lot.

hmm, when have i ever done that anyways

What the fuck does that have to do with the message itself? Just because I may perhaps be hypocritical in this sense doesn't mean I'm wrong, dumbass. It isn't the person, but the message, and ignoring that is a fallacy of the highest magnitude... typical of you and your one track mind.

"The guy that starts a topic all about how he single handedly saved Renegade, all by his lonesome (yes, I know it repeats itself)."

Oooh yeah, I did that... c'mon hotshot, post some evidence or shut the fuck up... This is about Reborn and has nothing to do with me, but you've somehow conveniently twisted it around so you can attack my character when it has nothing to do with Reborn at all.

Not applicable, bzzzzt

This whole damn topic is about your fucked up character, moron.
It's not about Reborn. Not the way you posted it....

Oh wait, you don't have a character. My bad.

Quote:post some evidence

Ummm..... Evidence of what?

Of you starting such a topic? Of you posting that if it wasn't for you loads of things wouldn't have happened?

Gee..... let me go check the original Renegade forums to dig up that topic. :rolleyes:

You want to talk about Reborn?

They have done many things YOU said were impossible. They have fixed loads of bugs and improved the mod. They are even working on an expack version of the mod (but hey, you said they aren't, so I guess that's not true, right?).

Fuck man, even RenAlert has many things you said were impossible. Things that I've suggested, technically, to see if they can work within Renegade's engine..... Things that Dante has managed to create, even though you said they were impossible.

I played both mods extensively.

And while RenAlert is a great and fun mod, and I certainly enjoyed kicking your ass on your own map, I've enjoyed Reborn much more.....

Maybe it's because TS and Firestorm are my favorite C&C games. Maybe it's because Reborn has more atmosphere and is less sterile than RenAlert.

As for bugs, both mods have plenty of those you little turd.

And considering that according to you RenAlert is at a far more advanced stage, well....

Quote:What the fuck does that have to do with the message itself?

Funny, in your previous lame ass reply you have no problems of it not being related to the topic....
:rolleyes:

And no dumb fuck, just like you wouldn't like people to get their hands on current, non beta, versions of RenAlert, so do the Reborn team members have the right not to want anyone outside the testing team to have their versions of Reborn.

Trust me, if I decided to release the version I have now to the public, you would be screaming like a little school girl, crying your eyes out at the great injustice of releasing an internal beta version to the public.....[/quote]

Gee..... let me go check the original Renegade forums to dig up that topic.

Exactly, you can't prove a thing you're writing, so you just use your sphincter to speak... there's a mouth located near that thing called a brain, try using both in correlation with one another.

Quote:I played both mods extensively.

Maybe it's because TS and Firestorm are my favorite C&C games. Maybe it's because Reborn has more atmosphere and is less sterile than RenAlert.

And maybe you're a dumbass for thinking you "kicked my ass" because the Longbow's missiles are overpowered against soldiers because of a problem in the armor.ini, but I suppose whatever you think is the reality of the situation... after all, you work on the modification and you've been around since it was first conceived. :rolleyes:

Oh yeah, Reborn has so much atmosphere, that's why it looks like shit and plays that way too...

Quote:As for bugs, both mods have plenty of those you little turd.

No fucking duh, that's why both are betas, except ours is public and the public actually has a chance to help out... imagine that.

Quote:And no dumb fuck, just like you wouldn't like people to get their hands on current, non beta, versions of RenAlert, so do the Reborn team members have the right not to want anyone outside the testing team to have their versions of Reborn.

Quote:Trust me, if I decided to release the version I have now to the public, you would be screaming like a little school girl, crying your eyes out at the great injustice of releasing an internal beta version to the public.....

Got something against girls? Use some better insults...

If you decided to release the version you have, you'd be a dumbass and you wouldn't even be releasing the correct version with patching enabled or anything...

I haven't played it so I can't comment about that aspect, but the models overall suck. The skinning quality isn't consistant, and niether are the character models. I.e. Some infantry units look normal, some have their legs too short for their body.

SHUT UP AND MOD

something to honestly live by, instead of sitting here flaming on these boards, open up a a level and study it, study your presets, study your scripts, from this, you can make a mod that is worth talking about.

Simply put, i will do what i am doing with or without people playing this game, so if you want some kewl new features implemented into the game, help make them and help use them, and stop having forum pissing contests, its getting a bit deep around here, and im only wearing waste high pants to protect from the water, i get piss on me you will all regret it.
