no i dont mean .w3d i mean .p3d (plasma)

when u export out of Renx u have a choice of w3d (.W3D) or plasma (.P3D)

i want to how to IMPORT the .p3d file back into RenX/Gmax

Yeah, it just hit me.....<http://www.discreet.com/products/plasma/>

It's a graphics design program.....kinda like 3Ds Max I guess. You can do alot of cartoon\Reactor type stuff with it.

I have plasma 3D on my PC but I dunno about importing it into gmax.

Maybe you could open the .p3d in plasma and then save it to another format that would be importable into gmax?
