Looks awesome.

What is it going to be for? Or is it just going to be a custom model.

That would look great as a auto rifle replacement. If you could get someone to bone it properly then it would look even better Almost done? You're kidding right? You've barely modeled half of the gun. Your MP5 has very little detail (and quality).

How to make the grip rounded? Model it rounded! How hard is that? Make it out of a cylinder with 6-8 sides, or a box with 3 segments and move the vertices around and scale them to form the grip.

No texture on Earth can save that crap. What you're asking for is a miracle. A texture is for putting in small details, colors, and variations, it will in no way make a plain box look like a round object. And apparently you've only HEARD of texturing, you've never done it before or learned what you only make as part of the texture, and what you make as part of the model.

Infinintwhat your problem Sir Phoenixx hes just trying to make a gun model, you dont have to download it if you dont want to, so it not your problem

Do you even bother to read anything before replying? Who said I had a problem? He was showing off his model, and I just gave him my honest opinion and answered his question.

Was anything that I said wrong or uncalled for? Not even in the slightest.

Sir PhoenixxAlmost done? You're kidding right? You've barely modeled half of the gun.
In that screenshot he's missing front iron sight, barrel, trigger guard, butt stock, and according to him, the fore grip.

Sir PhoenixxYour MP5 has very little detail (and quality).

That model has little to no detail on it, everything on that model is just made out of fairly simple boxes.

If you can't take honest opinions and criticism and advice than you shouldn't be here.

Hello, dumbass. Is replying to a thread without reading anything in the thread a new fad now? Or do you just not possess the ability to read?

I haven't said that he sucked, nor have I said that his model sucked. I also never included or implied any laughing or anything like that in my reply. Half of my post was to answer his question and to tell him how to make it better, but you wouldn't have known that because you apparently can't read at all.

Cruel? You don't have the slightest clue what cruel is.

Are you trying to make yourself look stupid, or is it just a habit?

Alright, if he was refering to you than all he has to do is ignore the second paragraph. I thought he was refering to me since he didn't specify who he was talking too, and you had quoted his reply and said that I did give him advice...

I hate to say it, but you are completely wrong. The skin has no resemblance to the Counter Strike MP5. The model has even less resemblance to the Counter Strike MP5.

The Counter Strike MP5:

Modern Warfare's MP5:

There is VERY LITTLE in common between the two MP5 models/skins, except for the very basic shape of an MP5.

LOL, now who's the dumbass?
