I was thinking, that what if

Edios, or

3D Realms, or

Sierra, or

Gearbox, or

Valve

Made Renegade(2)?

How would it look like?

Sierra, Gearbox, Valve- Well, from what I seen in Counter Strike, it (REN(2))would become just another counterstrike that would have bases and working vehicules(which would be absoltelly great, don't you think?)

I think that Edios would too make great game out of Renegade (2) their Tomb Rider, Theif, etc... are great games.

3D Realms -after making Duke Nukem, I think that they would make this game good too

Well, what do you people think?

I know that these companies will not make Renegade (2), but all that I am saying is: "What if?"

If you never heard, or never played any of the games that I mentioned, then don't reply to this post.

Did you really have to quote the post directly above the one you just made?

If it was made by soemone else theyd be sued by EA because EA holds the copywrite.

Jesus people. He was just saying what if. Not, "They should do it!!". In his scenario he is asking what you think Renegade 2 would be like if it were made by one of these other companies. Also in his scenario they would obviously legally have permission to do so. He has already said he knows it's not going to happen and isn't possible, but it's always fun to "what if". So instead of completely missing the point, why don't someone play along. I'd personally join in, but I haven't played any of the games above, so I don't know what they look like.

No they wouldn't. You should really know what you're talking about and actually think before replying to something.

For another company to make the game, they would have been given the rights/permission/license from EA to do so in the first place, so if they made the game they couldn't be sued by EA at all.

I've always thought about, back when Renegade was still pretty popular, that the whole Ren community would join up and make a Ren 2. I mean, if we had every scripiter, modeler, mapper, skinner, etc. in the WHOLE Ren community, I think we could make a really cool game. But I don't think there are enough people who could cooperate.

If Valve made the game then it would be awesome. The single player would be absolutely fantastic, and the multiplayer would be decent. The mod potential would be through the roof so the multiplayer would eventually be totally kickass.

The HL2 engine would actually work really well for a game like Renegade. It can support huge maps, obviously great graphics, all types of vehicles, and it probably wouldn't be a big stretch to include destructible bases as well (I'm sure it could at least Ren's quality of destruction, but it would probably let you literally destroy the bases).

But Valve has better things to do then continue the series of a game that sold mediocre when they have about 3-4 extremely hyped series. The rights to the series isn't worth buying. The best hope for any kind of improvement to Ren is in mods for other games, which would be awesome.

I can cooperate with any one I want to, because no body has pissed me off yet.

All of you that are you hoping for a Renegade 2 need to wake up return to reality.

Plain and simple...

...IT'S NOT GONNA HAPPEN

Sorry to have killed your still existing hopes, but EA killed the rest of ours when they shutdown Westwood.

Get on with your life and forget about it.

that might be true, but as Beanyhead already pointed out. EA isnt going to even sell, let alone give away the Copyrights for C&C. If anyone other than EA attempted to make a sequel, EA would most likely swat away the deal for the rights.

renegade 2 won't be, I know, but I still wonder....

...what C&C will be after Generals?

Will there ever be another C&C?

Will it be as screwed up as generals?

Will it be FPS or RTS?

Will the name C&C die?

-Tiberian Twilight
-Yes
-No, it is actually impossible for anything to be as screwed up as generals.
-RTS most likely. If it was an FPS, it would be alot better than Renegade, since Renegade was Westwood's first and only FPS game.
-No, of course not.

Could just be me but that doesnt sound logic... If EA thinks they really can make a pile of money with Renegade 2, then why not start the project.

Obviously they think they got everything out of renegade what they could and now only hold the copyright to show off with (or whatever).

So money wouldnt be the reason of EA not giving the copyright away... from EA's point of standing, they probably think they earn more money with selling it then making renegade 2...

EA should let an other part from EA make renegade 2. So by ppl who made an good FPS before. And they should let them use the HL2 engine =o
