The problem is: That's all he ever does. That, and "o.o" or "ack..."

If he isn't doing that, he's reposting the Ten Commandments of Shady... Basically an enormous spam post that shows how everyone should act like Shady, because he's an all-knowing deity...

:rolleyes:

Well, obviously... Except it's just a picture. I've only had one complaint about it... So if I get more, I'll gladly resize it.

That's the difference between Shady and I. He's more concerned about posting "hi <someoneshadyneverknewatall> how it goin " in every topic with some "face."

EDIT: I went ahead and resized it because of that very reason. I also didn't like how it was looking, so I tossed together a better one... Which is 45% smaller in height.

I don't want to be mean, but.....it is "Shady and me" because between would be the preposition, and me is an objective case pronoun.

Thats getting really old, and I know basically 70% of all the URLs assoicated with it now...

For people who don't want to click on it: Don't! You get about 500 windows opening, and there are only 2 ways to stop it:

Turn off the computer,
Stop the IEXPLORER process on the task manager.
