We are still in need of some staff at our (currently offline) fan site. We already have some like infinint and darkeye35 but we still need the following applications to be filled:

Co-webmaster

Public Relations / Advertising

Writer

Map / Mod Maker

File Maintainer

Co-Webmaster

Co-Webmaster is the most senior job available. His role will include bits of all the other roles- but maybe in smaller amounts. They will also decide what content will be published on the site, will be able to hire new staff, and will have admin control of the forums. Good layouts and experience are crucial for this job, aswell as a good understanding of HTML. Don't expect me to take you right away, this job has a lot of responsibility and I need someone I can fully trust.

C&C International are currently looking for 1 Co-Webmaster.

PR / Advertising

It will be this person's job to deal with advertising of the site. Also, the PR may have moderator controls over the Site Talk forum, where members can contact our PR directly.

C&C International are currently looking for 1 PR.

Writer

Writing things like these are an integral part of a writer's job. Writer's will produce a lot of the text for the site, aswell as review C&C related products, and new maps and mods. They will also report to the community significant news items which will be of interest to you. C&C International are currently looking for 1 writer.

Map / Mod Maker

The C&C Club map and mod maker will use ideas provided by people, to turn them into maps and mods, to be used by the members of this community. All of their work will be identified on both the website and these forums, so unique, innovative ideas are always the best. It is crucial that all work is your own, unless you have proper permission from it's creator..... C&C International are currently looking for 2 map makers, and 1 mod maker.

File Maintainer

File maintainers are basically the website technicians. They will visit the site frequently to check the links, the scripting, and basically make sure the site does what WE want it to do! Any broken links should be reported straight away to the administrator, who will then pass the concerns onto the file maintainer. C&C International are currently looking for 1 File Maintainer.

So, here is the list of staff we need. We are expecting a lot of applications, so show us why we should pick you over everyone else. Tell us your previous experience, and even include screenshots of your work. Review one of your favourite game titles- then show us! The more evidence we have of your good work, the better your chances will be. Post your applications here. Good luck!

Nice! You sound like an ideal person for the job. The PR will also moderate the General Site Talk in the forums. If you add me to msn, or email me, or even just post about yourself in the forums, someone will get back to you asap.
