The facts:

- 1) There are cheats which are able to influence the results of a complete game (not only sniper cheats which were not that important).
- 2) Every posting of cheats have been deleted or moved here
- 3) Fixing the ladder cannot be a big deal
- 4) the moderators here are not allowed to talk about either the ladder or the cheats.

My conclusion:

The ladder was switched off on purpose. Imagine we would have the ladder still running with all these cheaters out there trying to become No1! Your worst dreams!

I dont want to give an excuse for EA, but as they stopped the support for Renegade its the best they could do to prevent a greater chaos in Renegade.

To the mods: dont delete or move this posting as I am only explaining the obvious (well, not obvious for some people though).

if it was stoped on purpose i would say it was a good decision but releasing a patch that didnt allow skins would of been better
