Well, I think its time to increase the staff on renstation.net.

Needed:

Scripter: Someone who can make custom scripts for webpages, and has a good knowledge of .html and knows how to operate MySQL DB's. (also has a good knowledge of how to install .cgi scripts and what not) mIRC scripiter: Someone who can make custom scripts in mIRC.

Graphics Artist: Makes graphics for renstation.net

Maps Updater: Someone that will keep renstation.net updated with the current releases of maps.

Skins: Someone that will gather and upload many skins with a description and screenshot of the skin.

Send all applications to staff@renstation.net with the subject of the position. Please do not send a application to be a moderator (will be deleted).

Thats all I can come up with for the moment, people that help with website will also be moderators for the servers (if they want).

I would send an application to help out, but i am against RenStation for the reason that i am against all of your moderators as they are power happy.

who? Part of the reason might be which so much is going on, and they get frustrated handling the game. When im getting like 4-5 pages none stop every minute, sometimes I can get a little frustrated. All the moderators have to include a reason for every kick so that I'll know what they are kicked for, so if they are going on a "power trip" I can catch them soon enough to remove them from the mod list. I would like to know who you say are going on a power trip.

If someone said so and so has big head and they are 20-5 most mods would kick, i usually don't unless i encounter them and they get all headshots or i watch them do it.

I can be a jerk sometimes when I get frustrated of everyone paging, you guys don't understand that mods get pages constantly in a game, they can't do it all! And mods don't kick just because they get killed...if they do, they wont be a mod. Also be apreciated if you guys would give me the names of the mods that you think are on a "power trip" so I may talk to them or get rid of them.

Well I am a graphics artist and I would love to make something for renstation.com. I graduated from a one year intensive course on graphics design a couple years ago, but I havn't done much graphics work since then so I am rusty. About the mods on the Renstation servers, I agree, I got banned from one of the servers the other week because of some a$$ that started spamming racist crap all over the server. It really ticked me off so I told him to go F himself. Needless to say I was banned from the server after that. Oh well, next time I will just shutup and log off b4 my temper flares in front of one of these wastes of human life.

P.S. these new cheats being used by these 10 year olds are ruining the game for everyone. I can't play a single game now without some stupid f### using cheats and ruining the game for everyone else. That's how I ended my game last night. The 100th 10 year old logs on and starts using cheats so half the server logs off. fun fun fun.

I do the same as Homey. I also page other moderators and well-respected players to get their opinions.

You see that? JUST BECAUSE THEY KEEP KILLING YOU DOES NOT MEAN THEY ARE CHEATING. STOP PAGING ME DEMANDING THAT I BAN.

Sorry, temper got away from me there. >_> <_<

I have joined Staff and I agree some of the moderators aren't up to par, but I will do my best keep the other mod's in check and I will report them to the server owner along with regular players.

Speedy059 is doing a great job trying to keep all his mod's in check...if they kick someone on a power trip, like he mentioned....They will be removed.

Perhaps a few of you Renegade vet's could give the server another chance, and if by some chance a mod does go on a power trip let us know!

Actually, I do know what it is like to be paged constantly. I am a mod on the most popular server for Renegade, The Pits.

..somewhere where there are no n00bs and no power happy Moderators.
