Quote:You two want to be banned, Mike and Maytridy? This is your only warning, I'm not going to tolerate being abused for cleaning up the modification forum.

Here's the facts:

"Roofgnomes" is a waste of time. It was never going to get made.

The topic was excessively spammed with garbage that does not belong in the modification forum.

This is not a spam forum. You will post things that are on topic to the forum's purpose or topics will get locked.

"Roofgnomes" is not coming back. Keep this forum the way it's meant to be, end of discussion.

You call "cleaning up" locking our favorite thread? And when we get mad, you threaten to ban? How did someone like you become a moderator?

What do you care if we spam in a thread? JUST IGNORE IT! It's ONE THREAD! We have a little fun, who cares? Why do you have to run around, being the control freak that you are, and lock everything?

You will probably lock this thread too..... :rolleyes:

You're dragging this community down, day by day.....

P.S. The roof gnomes are back, thanks to SOMEONE with some sense.

Locking one thread isn't locking "everything".

YouWas it you, Ack? You little shit.

Right in your first post. Oh no, you never directly insulted him. :rolleyes:

He's a control freak because he locked one lame-ass spam thread? (Which should have been locked the day after it was created.)

He has locked many more than one. And the main thing is that he has locked many in such a short time.

I'm pretty much just asking him to lay off. The roof gnomes was fine, as Crimson made clear, threatening to ban me for calling him a little shit is pretty lame.

The reason the threads are locked is because they're spam threads, or they're completely irrelevant to the purpose of the modification forum.

It's my job to take care of this place and keep it the way it's meant to be. I'm not going to be guilt tripped with the "but we were having fun!" excuse.

There is only one major spam thread, I don't see why you had to lock it.

Most of the other threads that you have locked aren't spam threads, like my "WHO THE F*CK LOCKED THE ROOF GNOMES THREAD!?" How can you call that spam?

You also locked the "GET REBORN BETA HERE" thread, but never even removed the link.
:rolleyes: And of course, you couldn't lock it without thrashing and insulting the mod.

If he thinks Roof Gnomes was spam, somebody complaining about how they want Roof Gnomes back is even more spamtastic.

1. The Roof Gnomes was spam, but it was only one thread that he could ignore.
 2. The roof gnomes are back, look in the General Discussion. Crimson moved it for us.

maytridy

I locked that thread and removed the link. The original poster edited the post to re-add the link. If he does it again, it becomes a ban.

Regarding Roof Gnomes, I moved it to the General forum. I couldn't let a forum tradition like RoofGnomes fall by the wayside, even though I refuse to post in that thread itself.
