I found this hard when I was doing it.....

I have no idea how to describe this so:

PlanetCnCSabotage the torpedo racks.

Go to the top of the room and enter the doors you find here.

Go to the deck of the ship (just keep walking up) and destroy the Apache here with your Rocket Launcher.

Enter the door and keep going up until you are in the control room. Kill the captain here to get a red keycard.

<http://www.planetcnc.com/renegade/strategies/walkthrough/mission5.asp>

Only use these when your SERIOUSLY stuck....

It took me like 2hours to find him , first time round but I knew for second time

I seem to recal something about there being a bug in the scripting that means occasionally you can't get to the captain, even if you have done all the required torpedo sabotaging and stuff

I found it harder to find the ships first mate, the one with the yellow card.

I got the red card off the captain before I got the yellow card. I got through a yellow-locked door by an enemy opening it to get at me. lol.

MonkeyPhonicope, thats an attack chopper, the other one. Not the Apache either

The hind is not just an attack helicopter, it is also a transport helicopter.

Jeezus, it's not the damn hind. And ok Mr Pedantic a Hind is also used as a transport chopper, however their hardly well known for being used in Vietnam. Along with not being listed as a transport chopper on the web page in question.

It's a Jolly Green Giant
