I Have a Firewall, but he already hacked my computer, I think, he knows, my Ip, What Operating system I have, what version of IE I have. And my internet service provider. How would I find his IP, and ISP?

You don't have to hack anyone to find out what their IP is, or what OS they use, or what is their version of IE.

If you're on IRC with him, just type in "/dns NAMEHERE" and hit enter, it will figure out his IP.

I think he might be. But he was threatening to hack my computer, he said "You guys better stop this shit. Cos my little hacking boys are looking for n00b targets, and your fake eclipse clone might be the next." I take that as a threat.

Well, he can, he hacked SDS...With the help of se7en, a well known coder who is also a hacker.

By registering to the Arm-ENT forums earlier, you gave him the oppurtunity to use your IP adress, and so he'll do.

Maybe he's just kidding, maybe he isn't.

But he'll always be a moron.
