You know why I wish this game dies, cause of all you stuck up SoB moderators and hosts that have thier heads up their ass. opps did i say ass. well considering the rating on the game anyway and the fact YOU ARE KILLING PEOPLE does language really matter that much? I am also tired of some newb accusing someone of b2b, cheating, etc and before the accused can even fucking, opps did it again, defend themselves they are booted. GIVE PEOPLE A CHANCE ON THEIR SIDE OF STORY. okay I am done ranting, but get my point, if you are affended by ail language think of the game you are playing, blood splatters when you shoot someone for gods sake. And if you want to say, oh but the kids, they hear worse at school trust me ive heard some of them talk.

You haven't been playing for two years. Only the beta testers have come anywhere close to that time frame.

We aren't the ones kicking you out of games. Go find somewhere else to bitch about people you don't like.

Also, this seems to be the only place where people talk if you want to call it that. more like pat each others back until someone new comes in, doesnt matter what tthey are talking about, good or bad and you seem to pounce on them with 'newb' and 'no one cares what you think'

ok, lets see there are about 6 servers ive been baned from because some newb, and many others ive just been kicked from. its a pretty long list but if you want them ill pull my sheet out. and also I am trying to make a point, lighten up on the langauge thing cause anyone under 13 shouldnt be playing and anyone 13 or older playing this game already has a worse mouth then you can believe. also, when someone accuses someone of tank stealing or cheating, etc LISTEN TO THEIR SIDE OF STORY! when some newb leaves a mammy sitting in gdi base and a massive stank rush comes by, stank c gets destroyed next to mammy near agt what should i let them steal or, or should i jump in run them over and take out others while owner is no where in site and then i get booted 5 sec after rush is killed cause they whinning i stole the veh when they actually were no were near it. yes this happened to me once, i dont steal team tanks except in that one rare situation and id put money i wouldnt of been booted if i could of told my side of story.

Ya know all you have said is blah blah blah these people suck blah blah blah fuck off and play the game we really dont care about how good you are and how much "skill" you have.. and if you been kicked off a server because a "n00b" accused you take a screen of your score with players of both teams in it and send it to the server operators and i am sure if ur not cheating they will lift it..

I have no prob with sending in the pic to prove no bighead thing. but if we have a sniper we are doing inf only. dont like it, dont play with real players cause real players are decent with all the chars, not just snipers, plus i want to take out your 1k sniper with a free soldier with a pistol haha.

I am also talking about nod sneaking into gdi bases on any base, it is possible timing has to be perfect but its possible. and to cowmisfit, its kind of hard to take a screen shot AFTER YOUVE BEEN BOOTED, also i am not saying that i am all great, i am just saying im tired of all the sucky players accusing everyone with some skill of cheating.and if they would just actually listen to both sides of a story i wouldnt have to spend my time finding their website and sending a pic in, etc.

How is sniper worse its only 1 screen shot you have to take to prove you dont have big head
Unlike infantry war you have to take 10

Only building you can get to when your nod is the agt on field because of harvey walking

Its not possible to get to any other without using the harvey

Neodarrh doesnt matter what tthey are talking about, good or bad and you seem to pounce on them with 'newb' and 'no one cares what you think'

Sorry if anyone has offended you, I realize that these opinions might be hard to understand for someone of your age.

Do you know anything about how first impressions work? Let me explain in easily-understandable and child-friendly terms. You see, basically, if you act like an idiot the first time we see you, we're going to think you're an idiot.

But you don't need me to teach you, for the love of God, take an English class instead. Generally, when people come to a place of congregation where the general population is conversing in English, it's a good idea to speak in English - rather than a horrid and jumbled shit-pile of jarbled chickenscratch.

It's first of all surprising that you still play the game after more then 1 year. This means that you a. actually liked the game, or b, have nothing else to do, or c, a combination.

I guess we just have the perfect example of a gamer. They talk about skilled they are, but have a big anger management problem, wich mostly is the result of a bad social live. You get kicked out of a few game after 1 and a half year. And you can't control your anger, and start shouting on these forums how much the moderators suck themself and accuse them of booting someone that is much better then them. Please answer me this question, why do you get so spassed of being kicked a few times.

The moderators are not evil children from satan, they don't kick people just for pleasure. So instead of going on a mad rage, try to contact them on a normal way and ask to unban you. There are of course real n00b hosts, but not every host is a child.

And for the thing off bad language. I guess your still a teener or something, you are still used that discussions get won by the guy with the biggest vocabulary of foul language. But I really get annoyed when children are just sending the most stupidest foul language on the net there is like "oh man I scr*w*d your dad yesterday" or just using the word "f*ck" in every way there is. It just shows that someone is immature. When I check the ingame messages I don't want to be bothered reading immature text. Also your point that you kill people in this game is a weak discussion point. The game is rated teen, simply because you don't see any real gore. Of course the guy you shoot is dead, but hey when Mario jumped on a guy the guy also died. And hey in how many toons doesn't a person walk with a gun trying to shoot a rabbit or something. Fact is foul language is rated for an older audience then just some simple no gore shooting game.

To truely know if someone is ignorant you have to know them, which you dont know me. No I am not a Teen anymore, mid 20's. But I would guess you are 50+ because you seem like you came from a age where if even the word damn was used on TV or radio out of context would of been a big event. Guess what, get over it, foul language isnt actually used that much in game and most of the people I hear complaining about it are people that use it frequently themselves. and like i said, if you think foul language is something for older audiences only? you are way off, just go to a elementary school, youll here that kids know the stuff and arent shocked by it anymore. Heck watch shrek, even though it was in context there was plenty of subtle hints of sexuality and foul language that is now acceptable, even for the younger children! what a shock our coutry is growing with the rest of the world in that sex and foul language are not really a shock factor anymore. If anything they are becoming more acceptable. as the 50+ generation moves out and the new generation moves in you will find that foul language and sexuality will be on TV a lot more because it isnt that big deal anymore, but what should be is gore, violence and the like because those can have a lot more effect on someone then hearing the 'F' word or seeing a pair of breasts.

NeodarrhNo I am not a Teen anymore, mid 20's. But I would guess you are 50+ because you seem like you came from a age where if even the word damn was used on TV or radio out of context would of been a big event. Guess what, get over it, foul language isnt actually used that much in game and most of the people I hear complaining about it are people that use it frequently themselves. and like i said, if you think foul language is something for older audiences only? you are way off, just go to a elementry school, youll here that kids know the stuff and arent shocked by it anymore. Heck watch shrek, even though it was in context there was plenty of subtle hints of sexuality and foul language that is now acceptable, even for the younger children! what a shock our coutry is growing with the rest of the world in that sex and foul language are not really a shock factor anymore. If anything they are becoming more acceptable. as the 50+ generation moves out and the new generation moves in you will find that foul language and sexuality will be on TV a lot more because it isnt that big deal anymore, but what should be is gore, violence and the like because those can have a lot more effect on someone then hearing the 'F' word or seeing a pair of breasts.

Personnally I also don't believe the foul language has anymore such a big effect on children. But fact is a lot of servers are run bye Americans, and the Americans do care. There foul language is still rated high. And they have all the right to do so. I know kids now a days use foul language, believe me I work in my spare times with kids. But the problem is children also need to learn what is acceptable. They have to learn that they are not the only people on this world, and not everyone has the same ideas and that these people with other ideas get offended by there overly use of bad language. As long as there are religious people, children need to know that somewords can be offensive and that they shouldn't be use to fill gaps in there vocabulary.

Personnally I just hate the use of foul language constantly in a game, like a lot of children do. Specially in things they call "discussions". A few times the f word is not such a deal. But when people are just using it to fill up all the gaps in there vocabulary it gets annoying. Take the pitts, you will only get kicked after 3 errors. So you can say f*ck there, only not use it to much. For me foul language is just as annoying as the "1337" language. If you don't have good writing skills, use your type time good instead of writing foul language.

How did that feel Ice, you yelled at the host therefore you were banned, sucks dont it. and you werent a mod so could do jack about it, get how it feels for all those other players who just want to play a couple games and leave, just because you go around forums and become a mod on some servers doesnt give you a right to kick someone without full sided storys. point was put across.

Actually, yeah, it gives them the right to kick. You're obviously a dumbass because moderatorship isn't given to most people on the basis of a forum..

It's their server. They run it the way they want to run it. You aren't paying for the server, you're just a guest, and you have no rights there. Might want to get over it because it's not going to change anytime soon in any online game.

Neodarrh You know why I wish this game dies, cause of all you stuck up SoB moderators and hosts that have thier heads up their ass. opps did i say ass. well considering the rating on the game anyway and the fact YOU ARE KILLING PEOPLE does language really matter that much? I am also tired of some newb accusing someone of b2b, cheating, etc and before the accused can even fucking, opps did it again, defend themselves they are booted. GIVE PEOPLE A CHANCE ON THEIR SIDE OF STORY. okay I am done ranting, but get my point, if you are affended by alil language think of the game you are playing, blood splatters when you shoot someone for gods sake. And if you want to say, oh but the kids, they hear worse at school trust me ive heard some of them talk.

LMAO. I have a feeling we at FUD banned you, and you think your world is coming to an end.

Sheesh, I must be slipping.

Hmm, I see "n00b", "n00b", and some more "n00b".

Almost as unclean as Ice's mom.

Whoops, there I go again.....

On a better note... for the first time ever, which is a total shock to me... CW members/former members and the Renegade Forums working together with a common goal!

For once we can agree on most of the things stated by IceSword7 and xC4prox!
