Hi

I am posting this on any forum i belong to, basically i need help the backfround is I am bored silly at school now i am in sixth form, I have lessons spread out throughout the day like 1 and 5, hours apart and being bored silly with a iternet connection that nearly everytihng is blocked is dead boring, I installed tightvnc as it allows you to configure ports, I set it to port 80 for http and main to 21 as these ports are unblocked in school, when i access it from another computer in my house using either http://william or hrrp://x.x.x.x - x being the network / lan ip (sorry knowing this forum i dont want to give my ip address!) it works fine, but when I try to connect thru http://x.x.x.x x being my internet ip, after i type the password i get the message "network error : remote side closed connection" any help is appreciated and quickly i hope,a s i want it to be working for tommorows boring day of school!
