This is what counts. This is what makes me feel good tonight.

It's about politics, and weapons of mass destruction and 12 years of lies, but in the end, what it's really about is the people of an oppressed nation being freed.

May the story be the same throughout the rest of Iraq

That is the greatest! I'd like to see all those liberals complain about us killing poor Iraqi citizens and only doing this for war now. Hooray for the USA!
