Were you posts off-topic? Aircraftkiller is "cleaning up" the mod forums by only allowing discussions about mods/maps. If you're not posting about that, then you should post it in here, where general discussions are welcome.

Ack, you don't have to explain yourself. I get accused of crap like this all the time. Just because they think that their post is important, even though it has absolutely nothing to do with the section that it is in.

Hey kid, the thread on the mod forums (thankfully deleted now) labeled "Someone is deleting my important posts" was NOT important. It doesn't matter WHO deleted it, it was deleted.

Just dont worry me and PsychoArmy don't want to take part in this forum any longer.

He will take his modding abilities elsewhere and once again because of peopel who are so far upthemselves every1 will miss out on some more of his releases... Pitty he was releasing a mod soon.
