I have finished making the C&C Quiz. The questions are written by Sir Pheonix, give it a go. Your score is entered into a score board once you submit your answers. Please don't spam it with silly names.

That was pretty cool. One question though, shouldn't the 11th question refer to "the person in #10"? Anyway, good job to you and Sir Pheonix.

Quote:11. What happened to the person in #11 after he tried to send your forces to attack the Pentagon?

Alright, Kane appeared in only three games....
(Tiberian Dawn, Red Alert 1, Tiberian Sun, and Renegade)
I count 4.

And since Sole Survivor is a add-on itself...would't that not count for not having an add-on?

True, but Kane was still in it.

And Sole Survivor is not an add-on. It was completely separate from Tiberian Dawn.

Yeah I saw the glitch about the queestion number but I had 3 copies open, the PM I had, the HTML document and the PHP script, I forgot to change it somewhere, I'll fix that now.

The Kane question is refering to the guy who plays Kane- how many games did he actually appear in as in person, such as in cutscenes. If you read it "9. How many of the games did the person in #8 as Kane actually appear in? " you can see that it's on about the guy in the previous question starring in the game.

You need to have less questions to do with counting.

I find counting questions become boring.

And what if I have some new questions? Anyway I can submit them?

He should have like a in-depth C&C quiz. Like you ask several question pertaining to the events that occurred in the game.

Quote:13. How did Kane die at the end of Tiberian Dawn?

Hit by an Orca missile

Shot by an attacking GDI Soldier

Was killed by the ceiling and roof of the Temple of Nod caving in

An Ion cannon strike

He didn't die

Is that supposed to be a trick question?

Yes it's a trick question, the question asks how did kane die...

The player was made to believe that he was crushed when the Temple of Nod collapsed around him, but it never showed him die, they just left it up to the player to assume he did.

And if you've played Tiberian Sun, you should know that he's still alive.

After I wrote these questions, I removed one from the middle and two from the end to make it an even 15, I changed the numbering correctly, but not the references to the previous questions in the later questions.

It clearly says: "How many of the games did Joe Kucan, as Kane, actually appear in?"

He played Kane in Tiberian Dawn, he was in Red Alert for the Commies, and Tiberian Sun. He didn't appear in Renegade.

Thus, Kane played as Joe Kucan only appeared in 3 games.

Sole Survivor wasn't an addon, it was a seperate game.

And why was the wording of number 9 changed?

it should read: "9. How many of the games did Joe Kucan, as Kane, actually appear in?"

14 points....I got the last question wrong about how many years TS was after TD.

And it is basically unsure what happened to Kane at the end of TD, as the Kane in Tiberian Sun could as well be a clone

BTW, there is some guy named "b00b" or spelled otherwise who appears about 50 times in the scorelist...

But it isn't. There was nothing said in either TD or TS about kane being cloned, rumors, speculations, and 'addon' stories made up by other players don't count at all.

Kane was in C&C, RA, TS, Firestorm, Renegade.

Thats 5 4 If you take off Renegade.

Yes he was in Firestorm, he just didnt have a big part in it.

Sir PhoenixxAnd why was the wording of number 9 changed?

it should read: "9. How many of the games did Joe Kucan, as Kane, actually appear in?"

I'm guessing he changed it so as not to give away the answer to the previous question, #8. Who played Kane?

But don't forget that the Firestorm ending strongly hints at Kane being cloned. And after all, he does live at least some 150 years (Red Alert ends in say 1955 at latest, Tiberian Sun ends in the 2030's. Kane didn't age a day.)

Rework it and make new quizzes do it question by question (answer question 1, click the next button, answer question 2, click the next button, etc.), instead of doing it all on one page.

So later questions can't give away earlier questions.
