EA has cut off all Renegade stuff so you will NOT get any emails concerning nickname registration, FDS numbers and maybe not even tech support stuff.

there has been some issues where people in different parts of the world cannot register for a new fds serial number.

best bet is to find someone on the west coast of the US to register one for you, as it only takes about 2 hours for them to get a serial for a FDS.

I'm in Canada, no reply from EA, Farging Ice Holes, tis, ok, our server broadcasts on GSA :)--
...but...

WOLSpy would have been cool.

Ok, did they send u this?

Quote:Unfortunatley at this time we do not have the abillity to release any new numbers. All serial numbers are controlled by our FDS server which is currently undergoing maintenence. Our development teams are currently working to restore full service to this server and hope to have it working soon. I am sorry that I do not have an official date for when it will be ready, but any new informaiton on this issue will be posted on the Westwood website only. I am sorry for the inconvenience.

Best regards,

Peter R.
