What a joke..

They can't even explain how it works in a readme...

"-=|AntiCheat 3.0|=-

-Ok well i finally fixed the spray weapons bugs at last and i also found out a way u can still cheta with god mode but have fixed that. Everything seems to be working if you havenoticed any bugs tell me(BlazeDragon) and i will do what i an to fix it..same goes for any cheating that might sitll be happening in this mod."

I asked how it works on cncammo(since they can't even set up a forum for this so called anti-cheat)

And still no Clear explanation on how the server uses it.

I figured it's just a .pkg full of WW maps and thats all the server runs.

wow...anyone and everyone probably knew that a .pkg run's independtly allready.

I geuss it would be good for non-fan map servers...but almost every server runs atleast 1 fan map

It's not rocket science...

To play on a server running the new 3.0 Anti-Cheat Mod, download AC3, extract the .pkg into your Renegade/Data directory. Now you can join Servers running the AC3 Mod.

The Mod just restores CnC Mode, in effect blocks BH and the object.ddb file..

Server owners, for more information check our site...

<http://www.ozclan.com/forums/viewtopic.php?p=1726>

Ya, the readme is limited, however mirror this for download on your own servers, don't be a leach. Teach your ppl.

If you don't like it, don't trust it, or don't care, cry me a river elsewhere, lol. If you find BlazeDragon missed something, please post him.

Let us see your effort...

We are just offering a solution to the current problem until a bigger and better version/program is released. I dunno about all the renguard stuff though cause Yes lam a member of gamesexposed cant help it I was on there long before renegade and Wu-CEO as im sure you know from reading your posts crimson lol is a dick yet seems to know his stuff so make sure you make your program a real "corker" lol I don't want renguard already done with a week after its released .

But like i said no competition we can't help what these admins post on their sites as i'm sure you know. And we are just offering a temporary solution until Final Renegade 2.0 is released then it will be back to the drawing board. To be honest I agree with a little bit of everyone.

On one side you have Blaze and Jelly producing an "anticheat" in mod form. Though it does cut down a lot of the major cheats, it is still a mod and has variables that are not the same as the original packages.

On the other you have Renguard which has not produced anything yet.

There is only one true hardcore FACT here: Blaze and Jelly were the first ones to produce SOMETHING that lessens the effect of the cheats. And for that I applaud you.

It may not be the best solution, but it's sure as hell a step that no one else has taken.

I just hope someone produces a quality anticheat soon.

Not true. In such a case: The first anti-cheat would be the first pkg file released. The difference here is that this keeps the game the same (as in.....normal Ren stuff, no new recon bikes, tanks, weapons, etc).

Mods such as Tib Evo, the older Ren Alert public beta, and other pkgs have the same effect (except you get new things).

Try to focus people. This is not about egos any more and this is not a contest either. The common goal is still to stop cheating. The fools who criticize the Anti-Cheat Mod team's efforts have, for some reason, lost sight of that very goal. Because of the limitations of the Mod, any Mod, it is common knowledge that is nothing more than a quick fix, where as RenGuard is/will be a long-term solution. The creators of this Mod publicly support RenGuard because of this common goal and, unless there are hidden agendas involved, the support should be reciprocated. Anything else is counter-productive and will further divide what is left the rapidly dieing Renegade community.

ACK has released 2 other maps of Glacier_Flying, Glacier and GlacierTS, both of which are far less glitchy than the original. It is a very well-made map, it's just that the first one he released had a LOT of bugs in it.

If you are stupid enough to mock someone over a map which nobody plays because he has released better versions of it, you shouldn't even be playing the game. many, and it was not a false hope, for these people wanted to play a FAIR game. At least the CnC mode Mod called Anti-Cheat allowed these players to have that fair game, with equal advantage (depending on the version you were testing)

You have made a mod that does nothing to modify the game. It is very large. And all you do is call it "AntiCheat".

Cool man, can I have a copy, we'd just like to use on our server for fair advantage on matches. A mod based only on the classic maps with no modifications to the game. A rip of Renegade - Cnc Mode.

For some reason, Blaze and Jelly's Rip had bugs, which had modified (reduced) certain damage to and from some units. But the result was equal for all. This however did not closely resemble the original game, which is what we desire.

I look at the whole AC mod of Blaze and Jelly's as a fine piece of work. Anything new that comes out that in some form or fashion alters the game itself is going to have bugs. Let's look at Glacier Flying one of the laggieest maps made but not a bad map at all don't get me wrong. The point is Ender is right you guys come on here talking shit about who is the biggest baddest in the land. At least some people respect this game still and have made efforts (damn good ones at that) in stopping the whole Final Renegade. Yes some of you people do need to grow up and stop the lame flaming that is going on. If you still care about the renegade community and the game itself then you would think you guys would cooperate on a solution that will once and for all be stable and stop cheaters once and for all. I applaud Blaze and Jelly's efforts at stopping cheaters and as far as OZ clan goes we will continue to lead the way in support for anti cheat prgram that can stop Final Renegade.

lol go OZ clan, go! Save the world!!

Once again, reference my "No one uses it" argument. You can't stop shit if no one uses the tool to stop Final Renegade with.

Easy Maverick, don't sweat it guys, now I understand, (the "regretful" post)
Just because the fun has ended for some, they would wish it to end for all. The opinion of disrespect, one should not value. Save yourself.

Hack me, sac me, cry me a river...
Defeat never comes, till you admit it!
Too early for goodbyes, so Enjoy!

We all know it can do only what it can do, and stopping some cheaters is better than stopping no cheaters. Maybe in hindsight you could hold your tongue just to see if it would help the situation see that growing up and shutting up are sometimes hidden in the same package.

through now.

In other words, your work is worthless, so you're getting pissy over it. Yeah yeah, tell it to someone who cares.
