well it might,
when all the cheaters get bored of cheating on renegade
and move to a differnt game

Why must people continue to say Renegade is dying, "omg liek this gamesded ahah1!!!!1111111, what we going to do, I'm 1337'er than you because I play better games, ahaha this forum is dying..."

Don't you realise while what your saying isn't true, it pisses people off? Stop putting negativity into this forum.

Ya, me too. The best thing you can do is join moderated servers really. Or join mine (drkhaze1) which unfortunately can't be more than a 4 player so I generally do an infantry only / sniper only / c&r type game. All out war with 4 player I dislike.

Renegade is dieing and that means he forums will die too, but that dosent mean renegade will be be gone tommorow, it probibly wont be totoly gone for maybe another year, if EA keeps the servers up.

renegade isnt going to die if we dont let it die no offence but its the people like you who keep saying that it is that will in turn lead to its demise because that just gets a negitve thought in everyones head and people just say its dieing fuck that game/

Do you know why all of a sudden hardly anyone comes here anymore, School, people have school, and it takes up so much time, I bet 80% of the people who come here go to school. With school and studying, homework, projects ETC its hard to get free time, or if you do your probably with your friends or playing games. There aer still alot of people who play Renegade.

I know the ddos attacks against my server don't help much either... I'm looking at other options, but I'm pretty sure that anywhere I move them will also be targetted simply because of my affiliation. Sad that a couple kids can ruin the fun for hundreds of others.

OK, look...

What if you'd put the forums on another server?

LOL its columbus day only reason im home. But that is a good idea aprime couldnt you just take the renegade forums and put them on another server seprate from n00bstories so n00bs gets down they dont? P.S what happened to crimson79 server is it gonna come back???

Let me repeat myself. I'm pretty sure anywhere I move them will be targeted. These guys hate me and every project I am a part of. If I wrote a book and sold it on Amazon.com they'd DoS amazon.com... it's sad.

Let me reiterate that there has only been about 2 minutes of downtime that wasn't caused by an attacker. I'm paying top dollar for excellent high quality bandwidth and it's being enjoyed by trojan-infected packet bots instead of you guys who I buy it for.

Regarding crimson79, we are painting my office so most of our computers are on the floor in my living room until we are done.

Ok, what we need to do is find the people that are Dosing and kill them, then eat their whole family. BAM! Problem solved.

That sucks that they attack you no matter what, how about we trace their Ip's or has that been tried?

Just because the post counts on the forums are down doesn't mean Renegade is dying. I have school, homework, hanging out with the guys, the ladies, everything. I get on Renegade most of the servers are full, just like it was 8 months ago. RenAlert never really has any servers, but once I start one, the game is full within 3 minutes. Plus, modding Renegade never gets old .

Renalert should have alot more servers after the next patch, because all those people that don't visit the founs don't know how to fix the run-time error.

We've had slumps before, we'll have them again. I'm pretty happy with the way these forums are going, though I wish I didn't have so much downtime.

I'm working every angle I can find against them, but I'll never let them take me offline for good. I'll always come back.

Yea ive played command and counqer since i was in like 4th grade that long time and i havnt left tiberian dawn, tiberian sun or any cnc game yet except generals somethn just dont click with me about it and i defenitly dont plan on leaving renegade till somoene shuts down servers or puts my ass one town over with the amish
