GET OFF YOUR POWER TRIP!

You aint shit. Take your 2 years of php programming and shove it up your ass. Just because you run a fucking forum doesnt make you Bruce Almighty.

I do have my freedom of speech ... and your punk ass can't do shit about it. In fact, I've EARNED my right to freedom of speech by serving my country in the armed forces. So don't give me your pussy shit. Hide in your cozy job back home and TELL ME who has a freedom of speech.

You do not run the only forum out there. Hell, if I wanted to I could have contacted EA to run my own "official renegade forum". You are just a lamer trying to get attention.

You are getting defensive because you have LIED to everyone and you have NOTHING to back ANYTHING you claim.

Your forums which you prize so greatly ... and use to support your ego ... will soon be destroyed by cheaters --- because YOU gave a false sense of hope to the Renegade Community.

You have proven OVER ... AND OVER ... AND OVER ... AND OVER again that you cannot give up your pride and humble yourself enough to help the community. Your a waste of breath and an embarassment to Renegade loyalists. Go home.

What does my PHP programming have to do with anything?? (and it's 4 years, not two, not that it matters)

Yes, you have freedom of speech in America. You do NOT have freedom of speech in these forums.

Quote:You do not run the only forum out there.

OMG I DON'T?!?!?!?

Quote: Hell, if I wanted to I could have contacted EA to run my own "official renegade forum". You are just a lamer trying to get attention.

You obviously don't know the whole story.

Quote:You are getting defensive because you have LIED to everyone and you have NOTHING to back ANYTHING you claim.

Oh yeah? So BR.NET, RenStat, WOLSpy, BRenBot, BlazeRotate, n00b kicker, n00bstories.com image gallery... no, we have NOTHING to back our claims. What have you developed for the Renegade community? A pitiful Frontpage site and mounds of annoyance.

Quote:Your forums which you prize so greatly ... and use to support your ego ... will soon be destroyed by cheaters --- because YOU gave a false sense of hope to the Renegade Community.

Support my ego? Someone has to moderate the forums. Someone has to decide what conversations belong here and which ones don't.

Quote:You have proven OVER ... AND OVER ... AND OVER ... AND OVER again that you cannot give up your pride and humble yourself enough to help the community.

Again I reference the numerous projects that those on the RenGuard team have produced and released. Yes, we sure don't help the community. :rolleyes:

Wow, where to start...

Bruce Almighty? Prove she thinks she's God.

Freedom of speach does not apply to the internet. No laws are applicable to the internet unless specifically stated. (Those that mention "electronic means" is something that would be applicable)

So show me where any law states that freedom of speech applied to an internet forum.

As for this "Official Forum" thing. You can ask for that title all you want. Unfortunately it would still be one below her "status" (If a status level must be supplied to differentiate between the two) As it was Westwood who GAVE her the forums before they closed. A few equally good and reputable choises applied for the position, but she won it.

Lied to everyone?? I must have missed something, so if you would be so kind as to show me some proof.

Game cheats can destroy a forum?? Wow, can I have this code? Maybe I can make a big head cheat that will increase my postcount and give me admin status as well!

Proven over (x4) that she can not give up her pride and humble herself? If this were true do you realize how many people would be banned as soon as they joined the forum? If this held true, any CW member that posts here would be long gone. Not to mention she has assisted in some way to further the community a LOT more than you have.

I still can't figure out how by assisting the community by keeping the forums that were maintained by Westwood going, keeping them relatively liberal in their discussions (lines have to be drawn somewhere) AND assisting the well known Renegade program creators (as she listed above) in some way or anoter is being an embarasment to the loyalist. Please educate me.

And the most useless on yet... "Go home". Where else would she be? (other than at work that is)

I just have 2 things to say

First off Flood if you had crimson and all these newbs that brown nose to her, stay away.

Second, crimson we DO have the freedom of speech here. Your statement just adds to what he is getting across that you are a egotiscal bitch who only wants people to say/do what you want here and they do it all while asking how much higher you want them to jump. I am with him, you have shown no real proof that there is a rengaurd prog out there minus you made a page for it and said you are working on it. I dont come here often so maybe i dont know the whole story behind all of the shit that went behind you and Ty, EA, etc. but from what I understand while you did not code the cheat yourself, you all but pushed ty into the corner saying its not possible, he couldnt make it and shit like that so in a way, yes, you are responsible for killing one of my favorite FPS just as much as him and the coders.

Ok rant off.

NeodarrhSecond, crimson we DO have the freedom of speech here. Sorry, but you are wrong. This is a web site, on a server privately owned, operated, and funded by Crimson, me, and djlaptop. We have every right to ban you, delete your posts, or just pull the plug on the whole server and just use it to run seti@home if we want :sly: Of course, we don't want to do that, the point of these forums is for the common community of Renegade players to have a focal point for information and contact with other players. Like any such place there are certain rules, and calling the moderators foul names and make aggressive and vulgar posts is certainly a reason for moderation don't you think? I personally welcome any comments or criticism anyone has, but leave the expletives and ad hominem attacks out of it. At the point you are being offensive to the moderators and the other forum readers, your posts may be locked or deleted. Your rights aren't being trampled on, as you have no rights on a forum. You are simply being moderated. Deal with it. Its how the world works. Tell you what, go into a store, bus stop, restaurant, any place, and go up to the counter and say HEY YOU ARE A FUCKING ASSHOLE! and other such stuff, and guess what, you will get booted out. Is that abuse of your rights? Your freedom of speech? No. You have the right to be an ass, and the moderators have the right to remove your offensiveness.

NeodarrhYour statement just adds to what he is getting across that you are a egotiscal bitch who only wants people to say/do what you want here and they do it all while asking how much higher you want them to jump. See my explanation above. This forum, any forum, and life in general has simple common sense rules. One of which is that when you speak to the moderators using such terms as "bitch", "ass", "pussy", and the like, you are gonna get the smackdown. You can whine about it all you want, you can stomp your foot and hold your breath, but its the way the world works so deal.

Neodarrhl am with him, you have shown no real proof that there is a rengaurd prog out there minus you made a page for it and said you are working on it. Crimson is not the one "working on it". As is clearly stated at <http://www.renguard.com/staff.php> Crimson created the website, and is the PR person for the team. She has no direct control over the development of RenGuard, other than taking part in the protocol brainstorming sessions we have. I'm sorry that you don't believe RenGuard is under development, but we will not release source code just to make you believe. Most people can't make much sense of ASM code, and releasing the source code would be a huge security breach and just give the cheaters something to start trying to figure out how to bypass. Tell you what, I will try to get an update out this week, complete with some visio diagrams of basically how the system works.

Neodarrhl dont come here often so maybe i dont know the whole story behind all of the shit that went behind you and Ty, EA, etc. but from what I understand while you did not code the cheat yourself, you all but pushed ty into the corner saying its not possible, he couldnt make it and shit like that so in a way, yes, you are responsible for killing one of my favorite FPS just as much as him and the coders.Ok rant off.

You are correct in that she did not code the cheat herself, in fact she had nothing to do with its creation or release. I find it highly amusing that some people actually believe that she created the cheat, and also released her private information and called herself bad names complete with photographs.

Renegade was cheat-free for a long time. There still is not a working aimbot. These bighead and damage cheats are very simple file replacements that require no skill at all to do. Once we lock them out, only really determined coders will be any threat, and to be honest most of the people of that caliber don't play Renegade, they are busy trying to make cheats for CounterStrike or whatever new game comes out next week. Ty did not create the cheats either, he simply packaged up cheats that other people figured out (people like PlanetShaun, the first creator of a bighead mod) and released it just as a stab at the Renegade community (particularly Crimson).

Anyhow, I have typed way more than I planned to here. The point I'm basically trying to make is that we have no problem with disagreements, or even constructive criticism, but if someone cannot state their opinion without making personal attacks especially with foul language, those posts WILL be moderated. It's not an attack on anyones personal rights, its the forums rules, abide by them or don't post at all.

While I agree you have the right to moderate people when they get out of control, only then do you have the right to restrict someones freedom of speech. I used to be a moderator of a forum for a guild on a game called EQ, was a mod for about 2years before I quit, and you know what, if I would of made a statement as egotistic as that blazer about in a forums you have no rights and such, i would of been booted, but i guess since you are one of crimsons biggest suck ups and she does it herself you dont get punished for it, hell you get praised.

Also, Like i said, the team itself has shown no real proof that there really is a prog being made out there that will do anygood, as a 'good' PR, crimson would of already showed that.

Lastly for this post, Like I said, While i know at least as much as the next person that knows alil bit about the situation, Crim didnt write the prog. What I am saying is that her and I think it was someone else all but challenged Ty into publishing that there was infact cheats out there and they are easily made. So what I am saying is that while she didnt pull the trigger herself, whats the difference between that or pushing someone into the corner and kept pushing them until they pulled the trigger?

Ok going to sleep havent slept in about 36 hours or so cause of the flu and keep having to go throw up.

While I didnt have a lot against this community when i first came here, it didnt take long to realize that if you arent in the small crowd, everyone here just insults newcommers and such and that is one reason everyone hates noobstories and every figure head apart of it. Also your whole we are god and can delete/edit whatever we want and nothing can do about it because we self appointed ourselves the official forums of renegade.

NeodarrhWhile I agree you have the right to moderate people when they get out of control, only then do you have the right to restrict someones freedom of speech. This is our webserver, we pay for it, we can do whatever we please and enforce whatever rules we wish. Sadly although the rules are very simple, common-sense lenient rules, some people still break them, and when they get throttled they always fall back on either calling Crimson a bitch, or saying their rights are being trampled on. Look, its simple, don't call people "bitch", "pussy", etc and your threads wont get locked! Its really very very simple, I don't understand why you cannot grasp it.

NeodarrhI used to be a moderator of a forum for a guild on a game called EQ, was a mod for about 2years before I quit, and you know what, if I would of made a statement as egotistic as that blazer about in a forums you have no rights and such, i would of been booted, but i guess since you are one of crimsons biggest suck ups and she does it herself you dont get punished for it, hell you get praised. Your experiences on some random other forums have no bearing on how these forums are moderated. YOU HAVE NO RIGHTS ON A FORUM--ON ANY FORUM! This is the internet, not the supreme court. Every spec of data on this server including these very words are the property of Crimson, myself, and djlaptop. We can delete it or manipulate it at will, and theres nothing you can say or do about it. Is that egotistical? It probably sounds like it, but bear in mind the only reason its being said is you are forcing the issue, demanding that you and others be allowed to post whatever the hell you want, insulting people etc with no control. Well guess what buddy, its not like that. Follow the forum rules, or get the hell out. And we aren't evil egotistical bastards for having such policies, the official forums were moderated much more tightly before they were given to us, you couldn't even type the word "document" because some of the characters could be portrayed to be a foul word. These forums are very lienient, and everyone has many liberties but they are not rights. You do not have the right to insult people without being moderated, period.

NeodarrhAlso, Like i said, the team itself has shown no real proof that there really is a prog being made out there that will do anygood, as a 'good' PR, crimson would of already showed that. And just what is this "proof" supposed to be? We have explained that there will be no information released that compromises the security of the system. That means no source code, no beta tests.

NeodarrhWhile I didnt have a lot against this community when i first came here, it didnt take long to realize that if you arent in the small crowd, everyone here just insults newcommers and such and that is one reason everyone hates noobstories and every figure head apart of it. Also your whole we are god and can delete/edit whatever we want and nothing can do about it because we self appointed ourselves the official forums of renegade. Ahem. We are not the ones creating threads calling people foul names and insulting them in any way possible. People come here all the time and register just to post "OMG CRIMSON IS A FAT BITCH!", and they and you actually have the nerve to say that we are in the wrong or restricting their rights by locking or deleting threads like that. By the way, we did not self appoint ourselves the official forums, Virtual Ted of Westwood Studios appointed us. Several ex-WS and current EA employees still visit these forums, and they have made no complaints on how they are run. Feel free to send them an email explaining how you think its unfair that threads calling Crimson a bitch/pussy/etc are locked.
:rolleyes:

How would I go about contacting Virtual Ted?

Does he exist anymore now that Westwood is DEAD? I think you're all forgetting that "the game" is synonymous with "the community" now. We ARE the game. NO ONE is official anymore. And everyone IS official. As paradoxial as it sounds, we have been forced into a single identity ... struggling to keep this community alive. Our latest challenge has been the cheaters.

KyleLewis is [STT]Invader (a 16 year old Canadian from GameSpy Arcade). His ingorance and immaturity caused all the ADULTS (literally) from the STT clan to leave and form their own clan. We have only been around for a little over a month so we are still scrambling to put our "shit" together. He has a personal issue with myself and my clan because of this. So his posts are biased and inaccurate.

If you guys are such elite programmers, elite webmasters, and have so many contacts why don't you just run your servers from your house? Forums don't take up that much network or hardware resource.

I used to run a few domains on rented boxes, but now I just run them all from my home. I use MY knowledge, MY time, MY computers, MY bandwidth, and MY money to set up web servers, game servers, teamspeak servers, etc (by the way, I would LOVE to speak with you on Teamspeak if you ever got the balls to do that).

I beg to differ that I don't have freedom of speech on your forums. Yes they are privately run, but since they are the OFFICIAL renegade forums (all bow in its mighty), I have the RIGHT to post anything related to benefiting the game or saving the game from its own cheating demise. Which is what I'm doing.

You claim that I may be banned/kicked or censored because of the fact that I violate rules or say certain offensive words. How long would it take you guys to set up a word filter? 1 minute? If you don't know how to do it, I'll teach you. I think the real reason you're considering a ban/kick is because you know I'm right and I'm getting closer to the truth. And if I was flaming anyone else it would be a smack on the hand, or "do it in a flaming thread". Not, "Let's have a poll to vote f100d3d out of the forums". Your'e so predictable and childish.

"Go home" and "pwnd" ...

lol, noobs. If you'd walk down here with us common folk and get off your thrones you've made for yourselves, you'd understand the communication of us primates. I'll interpret it for you. "OWNED!" The politicians can talk the talk, but the foot soldiers (people that actually play the game) can walk the walk). "WTF does that mean, prick with no dick?" Wow. Acting like a big girl. Momma would be proud of your maturity. lol Go back to my mommas basement? I don't know what you meant by that, but I am FAR from home right now (in my own home). Interesting you mentioned that, though ... cuz that is exactly where I started messing around with computers. My first lab.

As far as Assembly goes, I don't claim to be an ASM programmer, but I do know enough about the language to understand it. And I do have programming experience on higher level languages such as C (and its variants), BASIC (and its variants: to include Vb), and Pascal. Rather than building objects you're building stacks and have a lot more control over those silly little 1's and 0's. Any task is not beyond any human being. It's just a matter of "want to".

Crimson, did you program these forums by yourself? Didn't think so. That's probably why they were handed to you, simply because you had the most "programming" or "professional" experience.

Yeah, well, you certainly appear to be acting against the community. And contrary to what you believe, only a small fraction of Renegade players actually visit websites about the game.

Quote:KyleLewis is [STT]Invader (a 16 year old Canadian from GameSpy Arcade). His ingorance and immaturity caused all the ADULTS (literally) from the STT clan to leave and form their own clan. Quote:If you guys are such elite programmers, elite webmasters, and have so many contacts why don't you just run your servers from your house? Forums don't take up that much network or hardware resource.

Oh yeah, let me take my websites off a dedicated server in a secure data center with lightning fast connectivity and run it off my cable modem. :rolleyes: Better yet, let me pay tens of thousands of dollars for a DS3 or maybe an OC12 line into my house. Right. If I can lease a server with high quality connectivity for under $150 a month, I'm going to do that. It's the far more logical choice.

Quote:I used to run a few domains on rented boxes, but now I just run them all from my home. I use MY knowledge, MY time, MY computers, MY bandwidth, and MY money to set up web servers, game servers, teamspeak servers, etc (by the way, I would LOVE to speak with you on Wow... I've done the same, so what? Hell, even Cisco, where I work, ships co-lo boxes out to other locations. Hosting your own stuff isn't the mark of the "uber leet"... finding the most economical way to do so is more.

As for teamspeak, I often speak when I'm playing music on the n00bstories shoutcast, and I talk on TeamSpeak all the time. I'm not afraid for you to hear my voice. :rolleyes: I don't even know why you'd think that. The phrase "got the balls" is interesting considering I have none, but whatever.

No. You have no rights here. You have LIBERTIES which are very loose that are granted by Blazer and I. If I closed these forums tomorrow or used them to discuss cats and locked every thread not about cats, would "the community" be able to sue me? Nope. You have no rights, only what liberties we grant you. You are not granted the liberty to call me and my friends names.

I don't WANT to filter words. I don't WANT to censor people. That's why there is moderation. The phrases:

- 1) My mom bitched at me last night.
- 2) Crimson is a bitch.

Both would be censored by a word filter but only the second should be removed because it is a personal attack.

This is logic. I can't believe I have to explain this to you.

No, I didn't program them myself but I don't see a reason to when there are several free forum packages out there that serve my needs. They were "handed to me" because I already had a large established community and reputation, and I was loyal to the game and I will be until the last gamer stops playing it.

Based on that asinine thought of yours, couldn't we also have RenGuard coded by Rentacoders? Yeah, I guess so. We're not, though. However, I am not one to pawn my work off on others. The projects I've done were difficult at the time, which is why I took them on. The n00b kicker was the second-such program of its kind (msgtpain was first) to allow remote administration of a Renegade server without the difficulties of using RenRem on the command line. My web server contacted my home computer, which contacted my Renegade server on my LAN, ran the remote command and sent the output back to my main computer which sent that output back to the remote web server. It took a while to get it all working but with the advent of console logging it's become obsolete.

I can't attest to the difficulty of the other apps, though I know the countless hours and frustration Blazer has spent and still spends on BRenBot.

Just to reiterate as you didn't get it the first time, you probably won't get it the second or third time either.

A COUNTRIES LAWS DO NOT APPLY TO THE INTERNET.

There is NO freedom of speech
There is NO freedom of mobility
There is NO Rights on the internet
THERE IS NO COUNTRY SPECIFIC LAW on the internet

Why? Because the internet is not contained to one government. And the laws of one country DO NOT apply to the laws of another country.

This is why "electronic laws" are created. As they apply specifically to the internet and other electronic means. The only reason it is illegal to infringe copyrights is because it deals with INTERNATIONAL law. (which states basically the the country that the infringed party is in uses their respective countries laws to deal with it) fl00d3d why the fuck do you keep coming here stirring up arguments after arguments.. its become boring reading your posts because it contains the same shit thats in the other ones cant wait for the half a page reply his gonna write :rolleyes:

every time i check the forums there is another post made by him.. i do a quick read.. its all just arguments..

dont you have something better to do O_o

just go away.. and do the things you keep telling us your gonna do :rolleyes:

Scythar:

I do want freedom of speech. You're just ignorant and didn't understand what I wrote. Read it again.

"Kyle Lewis" aka [STT]Invader (the 16 year old canadian boy who gave shit to an adult when his father died ... and you went on a power trip over him which led to half the clan leaving and starting their own clan):

Your clan doesn't "pwn" anyone noob. You started hating me just because my server that I ran from my house was better than yours. Then you have the tenacity to backstab me (after we had apparently been fine with eachother for some time) and post here.

Crimson:

Hun, don't worry about running your own servers at home. I understand the benefits of remote administration (security, uptime, etc) ... but my point is that you don't have to have all that to run a good site. I run 4 domains (some with additional servers) on my 8 computer network at my house (which has a private fractional T-1 line run to it). And the point of that is that I invest a lot of time and money (and pride) into my work because I do it all with my own two hands. To each his (or her) own I guess. And about TS2, if you wanna chat come to our TS2 sometime (for IP just enter <http://www.conkil.com>) and come chat with me. If you actually talk to me in person (other admins are welcome as well) I'll put us in a private room and do it respectfully. I'm serious about that, too.

Warranto:

Dude, just drop it. Have you ever done anytime underground? You may laugh, but that's what they're all about ... freedom of speech on the internet. It was created as an electronic medium to unite the world. No laws are going to take that away. And I have never broken any international laws with my posts (just frizzled a few people's hair).

I'm biting my toungue (along with the rest of my clan) so we can focus on other things as ACK suggested.

Again, I'd still like to have that talk sometime Crimson.

Where did I say there were laws made that took away someone's freedom of speech, etc, whatever on the internet? Actually ignore that last question, if you didn't get it the fourth time around (I think it's fourth, I've lost count) then you won't get it no matter how many times I explain that a countries laws are not applicable to the internet.

And again with these unfounded accusations... where did I EVER mention that you broke any sort of law?

Where are you getting this stuff from? Is it that you are truly ignorant of what people right so that you can warp it to support yourself in some small way, or are you just a moron by nature?

And before you accuse me of the unfounded accusation of being a moron...

- n.
1. A stupid person; a dolt.
 2. Psychology. A person of mild mental retardation having a mental age of from 7 to 12 years and generally having communication and social skills enabling some degree of academic or vocational education. The term belongs to a classification system no longer in use and is now considered offensive.

Even though the second one is no longer in use, I'm seriously considering it's application here to be valid.

[STT]Invader (aka KyleLewis) u are seriously starting to get on my nerves dude. i HAD respect for u. FOR EVERYBODY'S INFORMATOIN!!!: invader was the leader of a clan WHO RESIGNED FROM LEADERSHIP and then still acted like one and was a SUPER POWER HUNGRY MANIAC AND TOOK AWAY LEADERSHIP WHICH HE HAD NO POWER OF TO A MAN I RESPECT WHO GAVE HIS TIME, MONEY, AND HIMSELF to the clan. more than half the clan left and more are continuing to leave. AND CRIMISON WHERE ARE U GETTING THIS CRAP NO FREEDOM OF SPEECH OVER THE INTERNET. IF THIS SERVER IS BASED IN THE U.S. IT IS UNDER U.S. LAW HOW DO U THINK THEY ARENT ALLOWED TO CONVICT PPL OVER THE INTERNET FOR TELLING HOW TO MAKE DRUGS, BOMBS, OR OTHER BAD THINGS? HUH? YOU PROBABLY CANT ANSWER IT. AND INVADER WHAT MATCH WITH OUR "LAST WEEK" I WAS THERE THERE WAS NO MATCH IT WAS ABOUT A WEEK AFTER THE CLAN SPLIT I BELIEVE WHERE OUR CLAN WAS STILL GETTING ORGANIZED TO GET UP AND RUNNING. FLOODED HAS PUT MORE EFFORT, MONEY, AND TIME FOR US IN A WEEK THAN U DID THIS WHOLE YEAR.

f100d3d, my leased dedicated server sends out 50-75GB of traffic per month between several web sites, IRC network, TeamSpeak, pop3, and DNS for like 8-10 domains (I'm not bothering to count)... I can't serve that kind of traffic off my cable modem. My brother runs forums off our home computer connection just fine because he only has like 4-5 people who visit it.

You do realize it's not shared webhosting, right? It's a dedicated server that I have to manage myself with Blazer's help. I configure my own DNS, update software, fix problems... I don't see how that's any less of an experience than hosting locally. One might argue it's more difficult because you can't just log into the console if you fuck up the firewall. I invest a lot of time and money into my server, too... also add in a couple shell accounts elsewhere for my IRC hub and another server on the network. I don't sit around and boast at how "good" I am for getting it working... it's a learning experience. Everything I do is. Now I'm making pretty damn good money working at Cisco. twirls finger

It's not a penis contest here... shit, I'm just PR and web dev for this particular project.

Crimson:

That's cool. I didn't know your throughput was so high, but I know in my case (which is significantly lower than that) I can rent out a fractional T1 to my home and run everything the way I see fit. I guess the reason I prefer this is for more control over the boxes themselves. It is a learning experience for me, too (more like a continual challenge). However, I do all those things also (from my home) with the exception of irc (which I try to stay away from completely now, lol).

I really think we should chat. I'd like that. You know my server, if you're around tonight, drop by and see if I'm on. If I'm not (which I should be for most of the evening) ask one of my fellow clan members where I'm at.

Regards...

Yeah, I don't think a fractional T-1 would work for me. Blazer and I have looked extensively into getting more bandwidth to our house since Cisco will help pay for it assuming you'll use it to work from home. I'm out of range for DSL (we begged the phone company to let us have it but they performed tests and said if it even worked, it wouldn't be very fast.) So cable is all we have, 256k upstream.

I might stop by your chat... we'll see.

Longbow I don't really see your role in our conversation.

Crimson:

Please come on the TS2 tonight so (at a minimum) we can address a few issues of "common concern" and see eye to eye. I think you'll find that I'm not as much of a pain in the ass when I can actually talk to you live.

As for my ISP, if you did the lookups on my address you can figure out who my ISP is and what type of services they provide. Top notch and definitely recommended for the geeks out there. Most ISPs will not let you run servers no matter what bandwidth package you have. Even Comcast Cable will not let you run servers on their 'Professional Package'. Not true with my ISP. I pay for it ... but I feel it's rewarding.

I don't technically have a fractional T1 (for those of you geeks out there that are drooling). T1 anything (fractional or not) is a synchronous circuit. Because my home is within a mile of a CO, I can get ADSL speeds practically guaranteed at 1400kbps down and 704kbps up. I've never really dipped below that. So even though its not synchronous, I ususally get the pipe of half a T1 at any given time. Quite nice.

Niether here nor there.

We should definitely talk tonight, if possible. I'll be on for most of the evening (anyone here is invited as well if they can hold an appropriate conversation). Perhaps this method will work better.

/r

We basically have the same setup, except our servers are in remote locations. We have to maintain them, upgrade them etc. they are just sitting in a remote datacenter. It would be great (and I would prefer) to run them at home, but sadly there aren't many high bandwidth options available to residents in our area. We can't even get SDSL so the best we can do is the cable modem which is 256kbit up, or a satellite/wireless setup which has latency issues as well as not very stable.

Having dedicated or colo servers isn't all bad, you get to do everything you would if you had them at home, except you have to call them up if you need to power cycle I think the 24/7 support/monitoring/stability is worth it.
