This belongs in the General forum as it has absolutely nothing to do with modifying Renegade.

Announce that you quit, no one really cares and you don't get the reaction and attention that you wanted, so you come back and try to get attention in a different way.

You have to have the "your maps is bad" thing in there, and Blazer did a nice music compalation of the Havocman insident that would be good.

Just my two cents.
