Christmas day, it is the only logical explanation that it hasn't been released yet, and all they say about it is soon . . . They are releasing it on christmas as a gift to the community, take 10 minutes and think about it . . .

This is why we have a Team Members page:

<http://www.renevo.com/renalert/index.php?content=members>

(I think he quit... It was because of something like the mod wasn't going anywhere or being updated at the time...)

If anything, the mod patch WON'T be released then simply because it is christmas, and the team all have families.
