Cruelty to the French! LOL. This post seems pretty biased...but you gotta admit...they ain't the best in fighting. I especially liked this part:

KIRBY098 Sadly, widespread use of condoms by American forces forestalls any improvement in the French bloodline.

HEHE. French are just too snobby. They refuse to fight because they know they'll lose or tie as it seems to be their trend.

Just a little bit biased...the French kept English troops land locked in a very important battle...granted they just showed up practically for the one battle...but the English forces would have been able to take off and regroup somewhere else if it weren't for the French. The majority of Europe was taken over...at least the French didn't create a God complex over it.

besides...if you think the french always lose...then why would you want them fighting with us to begin with?

Lol... These were the best...

Ok, who do you think would win in a war? Canada or France?

Lol... These were the best...

Ok, who do you think would win in a war? Canada or France?

That's a tough one. Since there is a LARGE population of French-Canadians in Canada. It's in the bloodline. I say stalemate.

J/K to all of my friends in Canada.
