Convert them to a JPEG file. Get Irfanview and load your images into it. you can resize them to 800x600 or whatever and save them as JPEG format. At around 80% quality you should be able to get the files to around 50kb at 800x600 resolution.

It does? Does it justify all the other illiterate kids out there who can't spell to save themselves? It's just a really stupid mistake and when these guys say it they probably don't realise it's one. When they actually listen to their teacher in 5th grade, they wouldn't be getting told by someone on a forum that what they're typing out looks like ass.

Blood_Brotheri think that it is the patched game.exe that one must copy from the cd before playing

There is no patched game.exe on the CD unless you have a warez copy of the game, and also more than just the game.exe gets updated you stupid n00b SO STFU!
