Ok since EA decided to shut down the renegade FDS serial dilivery system we must figure out a way to make a keygen or a way to get around the key system... I am pretty sure one of us here can do it...

Well, EA says that they have no responsibility for it. They do not own it, they do not have access to it, and that it is an "unsupported product".

If they don't want to deal with it, i think we should obtain it somehow. Either buy it, get in contact with whoever does have access to it and get it from them with permission.

I had a chat with revolt, he reckons that a keygen wouldnt work, as FDS serials are assigned to nicknames. And when you do the login sequence to WOL it would see a working serial, but not regonised with that login.

And it would kill the session.

It's been proven time and time again FDS serials are not registered to the nickname they are registered to. I have run and am running servers with serials that were not registered with nicks that are actually run the server.

I've used my serial for this nick to host fodsvr07 for the past 4 months

Actually, it's a simple server issue, EA did not shut down the FDS serial deliver service, we just had to ping the server and it started to work again.
