Oh, just sort of a little inside joke..

Ack continually bitches about anyone and everyone that he can't hit on the server. People like x50cent, snipegod1, etc.. they all have "flicker cheats" according to him.. And he believes it so much, that he's willing to kick people out of the servers for it (one of the main reasons we dropped his mod abilities at The Pits)

I got tired of the crap, and nothing we said mattered.. Everyone that "flickers" is using a cheat to him, and we always had to hear about it.. So, being the sarcastic person that I am, decided that I was just going to tell Ack that he had a "you killed me to fast" cheat, every time he killed me. I've done it a number of times, and it always ends up with some long drawn out conversation about friends stabbing each other in the back, etc.. You know.. that old chestnut.

But now he's taken it to far.. He can't stand being called a cheater himself (even though he doesn't think twice about calling anyone else one) Now he's publicly talking shit about me, The Pits and the little assaults alive where everyone can partake in them.. he wants people to chose sides obviously.. so someone make a poll or something so many people flicker overkill style .. impossible to hit warping at distances of say the width of a mamoth tank yet they seem to score hs.. every time.. and ya notice its always they ultra good people :rolleyes:

i dont see how somebody is supposedly moving so fast side to side can also aim so accuratly all the time..

its also amazing watching the guy next to the warper.. not warp crazy

ACK didn't know it was me at that time He couldn't hit my hottie with his black hand sniper cause i was charging at him with a spawn rifle while pressing 'a' and 'd' quickly. All i did was this, while keeping my aim on his head level. Took him down to red with me in full health. Next thing i know, i was laughing my ass off caused he banned me for 'flickering'. Oh n0s!! We can't even press 'a' and 'd' buttons anymore!! WE ARE CHEATING!!!! :rolleyes:

Personally when Im trying to snipe another sniper, while I am zoomed in I strafe back and forth by rapidly alternating A and D. This causes almost no movement in my scope, but im hoping to dodge a bullet that is coming for my head. It could be this sort of strafing causes the "flicker" that ack sees. I have seen snipers that when I scoped them, where vibrating so fast they were almost a blur, and just like an agent on the Matrix, all the bullets I fired at them missed.

It does SEEM like a cheat, but I think its just the nature of the game. I have heard that if you host a game (non dedicated) that enemy snipers never flicker, so maybe its a netcode thing or something, who knows.

Ack if you want we can do some tests to see if we can reproduce this flicker effect, so you will be satisfisied that its not a cheat. I hate to see Ack banned from ThePitts, because I know it was his favorite place to play. At the same time, he cannot just kick and ban anyone who headshots him because he assumes they are using big heads. I have no doubt that he believes that is the case, but from other peoples points of view it appears that he is using the possiblity of cheating as an excuse to kick people.

We all know ack can be a "stubborn" person who sticks to his beliefs and defends them, so I am willing to do some testing with him to ease his mind about this flicker effect.

I tried banning him at first, then remembered something about that which makes it more prudent to kick. So I kicked him out.

He didn't make a good case for himself. I couldn't get a bead on him. I couldn't track him. He was doing a lot of damage to my character with an AUTOMATIC RIFLE AT LONG RANGE and nearly killed me within seconds.

This was a good player using an anonymous login. How was I to know who it was? He moved extremely fast, killed even quicker, and was using an AUTOMATIC RIFLE to do it.

He wasn't using a sniper. He was using a SOLDIER, a HOTWIRE. Now you tell me what the fuck is going on when soldiers can warp just as fast as a sniper unit can.

Sure, it's easy to sit here from afar and go "omg look at him being a n00b cause he kicked my friend out," but your server has the same thing going on...

I'm not going to fight with you over this. You may think I'm a cheating asshole and wanted to harass me over the game. I'm not going to do it to you, so keep it up, I won't be responding in any thread you make about me in the future, just to show that I have some sort of respect for you, whether you care enough to believe it or not.

Quote:But now he's taken it to far.. He can't stand being called a cheater himself (even though he doesn't think twice about calling anyone else one) Now he's publicly talking shit about me, The Pits and our server.. It?s just getting rather childish, so I thought I'd make a childish post here too, to keep the little assaults alive where everyone can partake in them.. he wants people to chose sides obviously.. so someone make a poll or something

I've made some choice comments in the server, or on IRC. I keep it there, I don't post anything I write on your forums or on any other forums.

Naturally I'm pissed off with you because you think it's funny to play the devil's advocate and harass me whenever you get the chance. Blazer says you were joking with me about cheating, but no, it's not a joke to accuse someone of cheating... I don't bitch about everyone I can't kill. I only accuse those who move at light speed or who get nothing but perfect shots.

You can go on doing this all you want, I don't know what you're going to accomplish. I'm banned from the server because I refuse to play in a place where someone I've known for over a year thinks I cheat the game. Maybe I'm good. Maybe I'm a sack of shit who has to cheat to pretend to be good. You'll find out when RenGuard is released.

Maybe everything you're saying is a joke to me... But I don't think a joke consists of "I'm going to keep harassing you until you feel bad enough to fess up to cheating."

I think it's the opposite, that you're mad that you can't kill me as easily as I can kill you when I'm in a vehicle. Maybe I'm wrong, perhaps you can show me that I am.

Another thing, I guess you wonder why I think people cheat so much. I play in a lot of servers. I read a lot of reports from various people about who cheats and who doesn't. I'm paranoid about cheats because I hate how they ruin the game in every aspect.

I'm not kick happy, I just hate it when people cheat, and I keep a constant look out for them wherever I go. Sometimes I go on the sense that I should kick someone killing people suspiciously. Sometimes I don't, and won't kick someone. It's not an easy thing to differentiate between cheats and standard players who just want to enjoy the game.

I make mistakes when I kick, don't recall ever claiming to be perfect about it... If someone was banned in error, then I'll remove it, like I did for tan's ban. After he came back and talked to me about it, I removed it.

Aircraftkiller

I make mistakes when I kick, don't recall ever claiming to be perfect about it... If someone was banned in error, then I'll remove it, like I did for tan's ban. After he came back and talked to me about it, I removed it.

We all make mistakes, none of us believes that we are perfect in that regard. The pits has over 1000 nicks that are banned, and I'm pretty sure there are a good percentage of them that shouldn't be there; we all have to live with those decisions.

But this isn't about those people Ack, this is about your continued delusions that there is a speed-warp-flicker hack that a select few people are using, rather than just admitting that the game has lag and some people are better snipers than you. And now you're kicking anyone at all that does the same thing..

I remember a few weeks ago, you and I were on Nod, playing on Islands and you sent me a PM, something like "I finally figured out what they are doing, just mash the ASDW keys really fast, in any order." Then you and I proceeded to do it while the other one watched and you proclaimed "THATS IT!" as I was warping around right in front of your eyes.. and yet YOU STILL KICK PEOPLE FOR HAVING A FUCKING FLICKER HACK.

I told you.. it got old, and I was growing tired of it. You're upset now.. you feel that our "friendship" has been broken, that I've "Turned on you".. tell me.. how the fuck do you think all those other people feel that you accuse? And if I side with you, and don't stand up for people like x50 or snipegod1, I have essentially bought in to the "old boys club" and stabbed them in the back myself. YOU put me in those positions.. and YOU can't take it yourself.

Last night, I thought you understood this, without having to go to these great lengths in public, you actually "Apologized" to me in an IRC PM, saying you were sorry for blowing it out of proportion.. I UNBANNED you from the server, and then wake up to find out your talking shit in F2 chat, in other servers about the whole incident, me and our community..

Whos stabbing who in the back now?

At least we're getting to the root of this now.

Quote:But this isn't about those people Ack, this is about your continued delusions that there is a speed-warp-flicker hack that a select few people are using, rather than just admitting that the game has lag and some people are better snipers than you. And now you're kicking anyone at all that does the same thing..

I'm not kicking anyone who warps. I am kicking people who do the insane warp, which is aided by what Madness just said... You can appear to warp even more by setting your KPBS rate down.

When I did that test with you, you were warping, but you weren't moving from the Airstrip runway to the Hand's footstep in less than a second. You were just flickering side to side like any other sniper does.

This is where I draw the line. If someone moves extremely fast, as in they're at one side of the tunnel and then on the other, within a second, I get suspicious. If they're killing me really easily at the same time, I have a hard time thinking that isn't a cheat.

I mean, in my view, it totally disregards the way the game was set up... Unless these people have jetpacks that you can't see, I don't know how they're moving that fast, and it can't just be latency... Because I've never seen any other FPS game with this particular happenstance.

Quote:I told you.. it got old, and I was growing tired of it. You're upset now.. you feel that our "friendship" has been broken, that I've "Turned on you".. tell me.. how the fuck do you think all those other people feel that you accuse? I UNBANNED you from the server, and then wake up to find out your talking shit in F2 chat, in other servers about the whole incident, me and our community..

There's a big difference between x50 and SnipeGod1. A HUGE difference. Want to know? Snipe moves just like you do. Or like I do. Or like any other flickering sniper does.

x50 moves at an impossible rate of speed, and gets very questionable kills through objects and such while doing that. This has always been my problem with him. That, and the fact that he calls himself "the best sniper ever" when he does this stuff. It's almost as if he's cheating the game just to get people to worship him.

I have no problems with the way Snipegod plays, because observing him shows that he uses tactics and knows how to hide and shoot. He doesn't depend on moving at warp nine to keep from dying, and to get kills on people.

I did, indeed, talk shit about the server, there's no denying that. I can't remember exactly what was said, I just remember saying that Crimson's server is where I plan on staying now because of what you've told me... And that you accused me of cheating, and that I refuse to play somewhere where I'm accused of cheating by the server administrator.

I probably made other comments saying that you were mad because I killed you easier in vehicles than others did, and I apologize for that. It's just a knee-jerk reaction to being banned from a place I've played in for a very long time.

I had no idea that you had unbanned me from the server. That and the fact that you wouldn't respond to anything I wrote to you in IRC wasn't helping me understand that I wasn't still banned. For all I knew at that point in time, you still thought I cheat and didn't want to remove the ban because of what I had said... So I gave up on it and moved on to playing somewhere else.

If I'm unbanned, that's great, thank you. I don't know if I'll come back and play until RenGuard is out, just so you'll be certain that I don't cheat.

In addition to that, if you come down here in March, bring your computer with you. I'll bring mine along for the ride, and I'll show you that I can kill you just the same with your computer as I can with mine.

AircraftkillerThis was a good player using an anonymous login. How was I to know who it was?

I have a lot of anonymous logins (smurfs ), and I have some understanding for this statement.

I have been asked for SS twice and kicked 3 times so far. I like to keep count because I actually consider it a compliment (if an annoying one) when I am kicked for cheating. I must make it clear at this point how much I hate cheats.

Warp cheat sounds to me a lot like the low kbps hack, where people deliberately lower their kbps to lag kill. Check ppl's kbps more, and kick players with very low kbps. That solves that. If you refer to extremely rapid sideways movement put 3rd person view on, lock your sight on someone's head, and try it (WITHOUT zoom). See?

I am not getting involved in any arguments here, just thought I'd add my 2 cents.

It's my personal experience that people complain about me, just because I'm myself, and they let others tell them what to think about me, instead of actually talking to me... So they form judgement against me without even talking to me once, and whatever I do is automatically wrong and complained about.

So I don't normally take a lot of the complaints with anything but a grain of salt.

Good then you see my point.

EDIT: ACK do you really think people just listen to other's opinions about you? When I first came to the official forums back when WS hosted them I read three of your posts, gathered from them that you were arrogant, but I don't have anything against you. Most people just don't like the snide retorts you throw at them, for no reason or good reasons for that matter.

Actually, yes, I've spoken with many people who were basically brainwashed into thinking that I'm evil and out to destroy the world, just because someone doesn't like me.

Then I talk to them on AIM or something, and they go "Wow, you aren't the big evil person everyone always makes you out to be."

Here's an example, from a while ago:

Me and some friends were thinking of making a documentary on every thing ACK has done.

noticed that all the maps ACKs ever made have never matched up to how good Glacier was. I think that Westwood used ACK to help gain popularity for Renegade. If people saw that a fan's map got into renegade as an official map they might try to make maps of their own and try to get theirs in as well, which has never happened. Also you see that Westwood is letting ACK finish allot of their maps that they did not finish. This leads me to believe that ACK really inset as big as he thinks he is.

EDIT: he even seems a little nervous in his posts.

Its simply some one moveing around a larg distance really fast, so fast that other people dont like it cuz they cant hit them so they get mad and frustrated and then with thoughts few with powers they should not have, kick the player that is bugging them.

InfinintMe and some friends were thinking of making a documentary on every thing ACK has done.

One theory that i think is most probable is that ACK did not make Glacier Flying. Haven?t you noticed that all the maps ACKs ever made have never matched up to how good Glacier was. I think that Westwood used ACK to help gain popularity for Renegade. If people saw that a fan's map got into renegade as an official map they might try to make maps of their own and try to get theirs in as well, which has never happened. Also you see that Westwood is letting ACK finish allot of their maps that they did not finish. This leads me to believe that ACK really inset as big as he thinks he is.

EDIT: he even seems a little nervous in his posts.

You can't even spell "infinite" for your own nickname!! How the fuck can I believe that you've somehow pieced together the Great Conspiracy of Westwood Studios and figured out that I'm unable to create anything in 3DS because of what you say??

As if you descended from the heavens above and were granted with the ability to see a conspiracy theory in everything, which creates the Grand Unification Equation for the universe! Congratulations, you figured out how matter, anti-matter, particles of light and the universe itself are all tied in together! You discovered the single-most important thing in the history of mankind, paving the way for the creation of warp drive and the ability to manipulate matter in ways thought inconceivable!

CONGRATULATIONS INFININT, YOU'RE A GOD DAMNED GENIUS! YOU PUT STEPHEN HAWKING INTO PRE-SCHOOL!

Ok, let's calm down people. Instead of attacking eachother when you're angry:

- 1)Walk away
- 2)Have a cup of tea or hot cocoa
- 3)Count to 10
- 4)Come back

As for me, I can't play online (still ), so I'm neutral for all of this fiddle.

Err, first impressions never really last in my opinion.. SomeRhino used to suck at making maps, now look at him, he's made Conquest Winter and a countless number of maps of Sole Survivor. I used to make crappy 2000 poly maps, now I'm making 20,000+, but I only ever used one, and that's in SS. Keep practicing, that's what I do, then release a kick ass map. Practice makes perfect my man.

I have worked with Infinint in the past and he can model and so forth but never released much because he always wanted support from others which he could not get. He does have talent in modelling but not to much else in renegade.

I think ACK can do lots of things but I think he gets worked up over certain things. Yes cheating is bad blah blah blah and if you see an OBVIOUS cheater you kick and ban. If you THINK they cheat but can not be sure ask for screenshots.

This stupid warp shit is easy as fuck to do not only the command but if you have a 128k dsl line and you set your renegade up properly. People will be repairing inside a building yet on your screen will be repairing out in the field. and running against a wall ALL THE TIME.

So this is not cheating and this flicker shit. I'm sry but if u do sniping like 1 on 1 why the hell would you scope your just gonna slow your guy down and lose. You have a better chance of beating him no scoping. I always use a and d because i dont snipe with a scope normally and i go alot faster which allows me to win.

Also I believe walls flying was mentioned. There is a certain glitch in this map which allows you to drop off a certain edge but if your fps is below 15 you will lag back up but in a different position could this maybe be what happened? to you it just looked like he was teleporting very few know about it but Ive seen it used on servers.

watch the enemy move huge distances in a second. THATS what it is like fighting some people in a 32 player game.. and you cant say it is me or the server becuase nobody else warps like the guy teleporting side to side

remeber i said not a good example and ignore my fps.. it goes like that while recording 0.5MB/sec of data into avi format :/

I like playing against ACK...but i geuss this isnt possible anymore since he doesnt play on any servers he doesnt mod.

I'd prob get kicked from the n00b server for using C4 to kill a enemy...which ack has complained about when I have played against him before.

You idiot, I've played in The Pits for months after being deopped, can't you even get your facts straight?

JavaxcxJust a question:

Was it x50centx or simply "x50cent" that msgtpain was refering? -- if it was the former, there is proof of him cheating under the alias of rengod1, (which may or may not pretain to snipegod1).

just x50cent. Without the 'x'.

Isn't that like.....the standard way of dodging in games.....? I did it all the time in Ren, it shouldn't make you warp.

All server admins look at an old topic I revived in the Server Owner Forums.
<http://www.renegadeforums.com/viewtopic.php?p=58776#58776>

It is not a 100% defence of ACK, but maybe if you suspect what my topic was about you should find the server owner and have them confirm your concerns before you act. Because in a way we do have proof of a cheat that acts similar to what Jon has described.

First let me say my defense of ACK:

He knows the game better than pretty much anyone alive, he knows every option and glitch that can be exploited, simply because he's played and modified the game more than anyone else around. If there is some new cheat going around, he would probably be the first to realize it, because he knows everything that is even remotely possible in multiplayer online.

On the other hand, in terms of "flicker cheats," ACK should know, if anyone, that character physics are all controlled server side, meaning that they're impossible to modify in a multiplayer game unless you are the host (in which case every player has the modified capabilities, such as "warping").

Unless there is correlated data of specific players always "warping" in a fashion similar to the effect created by low KBPS, there is no reason for suspicion, in my opinion, because that kind of crap goes on all the time. Its called LAG. And even if specific players do "warp" consistently, that could just as easily be due to a crap connection, which is no fair reason to ban them from servers.

Playing the devils advocate, assuming there was some way to modify player physics to make the person "teleport" or "warp," player physics are still controlled server side, so it would be useless. And even if they weren't, or if the "command" you mentioned was being used, how far are we assuming people will go to snipe well?

So there's my line. ACK was wrong, and has been wrong before, but still knows more than just about anyone in terms of what is possible, and should probably continue to be a moderator, for that reason.

kbps alteration is a cheap trick. If you deliberately lower your own, you will gain an advantage. A crap connection is a fair reason to ban anyone if they affect the game for 50 other people.

a prime example would be the 60 player game on Fastc0nn1. They now boot people with kbps below 100 (i thinks its 100 anyway). I was at a freinds house watching him play Ren on the server the other day. After kicking approx. 10 - 12 people for kbps WAAY to low, the following results were seen:

SFPS trebled
PING stopped boucing and leveled out at an acceptable level.
FPS got slightly better
KBPS stopped bouncing and leveled out.

seriously, this guy was trying to snipe. he hit about 3 people. Immediately after the removal of those who had low kbps he started hitting about 1 a minute.

Kick them. It IS a known hack, and anyone CAN DO IT DELIBERATLY, it doesnt take a genius.

Nice to see that everything has changed SO much in the 10 months since I stopped posting...
:rolleyes:

This has happened before. It's nothing new; I can remember at least one other ACK bitch-a-thon topic like this on the OLD Renegade forums(remember? Westwood? BEFORE EA swallowed it whole?)...the end result was that half the people who were arguing got banned, some permanently. By the time that happened, the topic was several pages long, and had degenerated into one big overglorified flame war. Sound familiar?

Had I never seen this happen before, I'd probably agree with the topic author, but since this is a recurring theme which has always ended in the original posters resorting to senseless flames, I must side with ACK on this one.

Sure, he may be an asshole- but he's an asshole that's usually right.

I've seen the same sort of mysterious warping behavior while playing, and having had a bad connection at one point myself, I can state with absolute certainty that there is no way people can warp all over the place and get as high of scores as they do with lag. I'm assuming this isn't the regular button mashing jump around trick people use with infantry, but the hardcore WARPING that happens when someone lags(or when you lag, and see someone else warp because of it). You can't get super-dee-duper uber scores if you're lagging badly enough to warp around, so it has to be someone causing everyone else to lag while they remain in full control. Because that gives them an unfair advantage, it can be considered cheating, and an administrator/moderator is fully within their rights to kick that person.

I know i said i left this topic but i watched when i watched the video i couldnt belive it, this hole topic is a flame war over LAG!!

When im playing people warp just the same way ALL THE TIME, mostly becuse I'm 56k. Useally the warp distance is well over the width of a mammy on some servers. Its just lag people, you act

Nukelt15Nice to see that everything has changed SO much in the 10 months since I stopped posting... :rolleyes:

-=OneBigSnip=-

I don't typically resort to flames, and if for some reason I do, they are never senseless. But it's good to know that you can come back 10 months later and be just as smart as you were when you left.

Anyway..

The majority of the posters in this thread did indeed just jump on the 'flame ack' bandwagon, which is sad in a way, because instead of helping him see the original point of the thread, it just makes him more pissed off about it all.

So I'll restate:

- a) No one likes being accused of "cheating" (I think this sort of proves that)
- b) Even if there 'was' a warp hack, there is absolutely no legitimate way of isolating those people from the ones that just have a shitty connection. If the server agrees that they don't care, and people with shitty connections should play somewhere else, so be it. But kicking someone because you can't hit them is dumb.
- c) The anonymous person that was kicked, who Ack actually knows quite well under his "real name" was just a perfect example of how someone can definitely not be cheating, but an overzealous moderator that has a hair up their ass can find a reason to remove anyone that they simply don't feel like playing against.
- d) Having said that, it just bugged the hell out of me that someone would be so pissed about being "accused" of cheating that they would go to great lengths to prove their innocence and be truly offended that someone would accuse them.. would just turn around and ban the first person they saw that wiggled too much.

I was HOPING that the people in question, would just have a better understanding (or perspective) of the situations from the accused cheaters perspective.

I'm the last person that gives a cheater the time of day, when they drain my health and kill my havoc with a minigunner under a second; or the players that kill 10-15 people in the tunnels leaving them all to say "WTF" as they respawn; or even the ones that have continual score jumps of 500+ points when I go back and review the logs..

But come on.. kicking everyone because they 'flicker'? That accusation is just a little too self serving in my opinion.

It's nearly impossible to tell who is who when known players use unknown nicknames for whatever reasons they can think of to use them.

Am I supposed to know anomyser = tanhm07 when he doesn't mention anything to me? Most people have the common courtesy to message you privately and tell you that they're someone you know, and that you know not to kick them in the case that they may do something suspicious.

Without prior knowledge, I had no idea of who he was.

Here's a little something for you. Why don't YOU shut the fuck up?

All you have done here is flame ACK consistently because you had an argument with him. You leave useless comments behind and do nothing but waste space.

GET OVER YOURSELF. You are proving nothing by replying in a manner to show your disapproval of ACK. You are simply aggravating those who want to read this to see this resolved. You simply jumped on the "OMG LEIK I H8 ACK!!!111" bandwagon, which is useless since ACK isn't going to go crying home to mommy because a few people hate him.

Next time, post something relevant to the topic at hand, mmkay?

So far, they seem to have not noticed me. I merely have asked a question on topic about the cause of the problem, but these "forum posters" seem to prefer to attack others for not being on topic, rather than continue an on topic conversation.

A post such as this one may cause more aggression. I best be on the move!
