Seriously... I fire all my moderators and start from scratch and now it's even worse than before! I don't think a single kick happens in my server without a diatribe from the kickee about moderator abuse. Seriously... grow the fuck up before I institute a 'no whiners' rule.

Yeah, the old way of doing things just wasn't working for a larger server.

Whiners are an inevitable part of the game. The best way to deal with them is to kick them, and if they bitch at you, call them whiny jackasses, and ignore them.

Since when was this forum filled with topics whining about since when the game was filled with whiners?

I couldn't resist... Seriously though I haven't seen it around but do any of you remember the Men of God Servers? You'd be like "Ok I'll go this way, you assist that APC." and it's all "Y00 are kicked" and everyone would complain because theyre auto kick would look for words in a word. So then there'd be all these people looking for trouble with a thesaurus and saying like "I want to circumspect the enemy" and get kicked and whine.
