I'd be stupid to say they didn't get hacked.

I'm not denying it or anything lool

But these kinds of hackers are the assholes that give every hacker on the internet a bad name.

rolls eyes

Most ethical hackers leave the original page in tact somewhere.

The people who did that are SAD!

Renstation.net wasn't singled out in this attack. The hackers used a glitch in "mygallery" thats located in the Cpanel. They used the glitch that replaced every 'index' file with theirs. It attacked all the websites on that server, renstation wasn't the only one. The server owner has already filled out a report and has contacted the FBI.

hehe, some weird things are happening, we are trying to get the site back to normal. Right now all of our SQL is messed up.
