I'm on the outside of the tunnels were the watrefall is and the Sakura is jumping back and forth in the tunnel. Well as the yjump I fire and I some how hit a cloaked sbh right in the head. It was friggin great. I even took aside the time to tell the Sakura they got a cloaked sbh killed.

This was from the IRC channel.

lol n1.

The problem with that is everyone would shout "cheat".

I have a few times managed to randomly shoot, and hit a SBH, and fired at one enemy at just by chance a SBH runs in front on him. But i've never got a hs on one though.

Omg, great. I hate stbhs that sneak around the back.

Especially in conquest winter on bcserv4.

I was a havoc and a stbh with sniper rifle was behind me. I was dead, and he still said I OWNED U. Didn't know what was coming.

some sbh was sniping on under on top of that peak, I was an engine and going to put timed c4 on him, but I accidentally ran into him, knocked him over, he fell down, and then almost instantly the gdi harv ran him over... :twisted:

that's not really an "awesome shot" though. But it's still funny when people get owned by the harv.

anyway, i got 2 double kills play on n00bsvr01 yesterday, both times with a deadeye. nothing overly spectacular like the ones above, but still cool.

Ah...yes, I too was sometimes pwned by the Harvester of Doom. It happens to me often when I'm trying to snipe someone with the scope on, therefore not seeing what happens around me.

Yes I've been killed by the harvvy four times in my Renegade career. Each time funny yet annoying. The most recent happened yesterday as a 3 med tank rush on the obby. My med tank was destroyed as I got to it's base I walked in the unmined obby and placed a remote c4 finishing it off I walk up jump to avoid a mass of infantry and right under the harvy I went.

One time, long ago, I was a stealth black hand who had just picked up a spawned sniper rifle. I paused in front of the GDI base to type something like, "w00t, I just got an invisible sniper." Alas, I never saw the Harvester coming...

I got a HS on a SBH with a PIC on complex once as I was shooting at a ftank.

On a slightly different subject, on complex again, Nod had placed a nuke on the side of the WF, and they had snipers covering the nuke. I had a stolen stank and parked in front of the nuke and allowed a hotwire to hide behind it and disarm it. The snipers on the hill were calling the hotwire a cheater because they couldn't kill her. In the mean time, the armor in my stank is dropping by 5HP each shot.

Only one sniper on the hill realized the shimmer of a stank when they shot.

Slicer_238 Unlike you I'll always be playing Ren Kirovy. Where have you been anyways?

Well I played Generals when it came out. Then I got bored of that and went to X-box and dreamcast. Then the expansion came out for Generals so I played that. Now I got 8 new games for X-box so I've been pretty busy playing those. After 600+ hours of Renegade it's hard to play more when all my best friends have quit the game.

Speaking of being killed by the harvester I got run over by the GDI harvie twice in one game. The sad thing was it was at the same spot both times. I was sniping the GDI players as they were coming out of the base thed the harvester decided to run over me on its way back to base.

I try to make it funny. Sometimes after throwing my C4 on the harvester I stand in its path and wait to be run over. As I am run over you see this:

Before this turns into a flame war...

Its Mesa and GDI is owning nod, they have no strip but we have no ref. Even so i still manage to get enough money to buy a med tank, and becuase nod has no strip the middle area i filled with ravys and sakuras snipeing the basic infuntry that try to get some extra points. I go in and i never got so many head/body shots with a med tank in my life lol, or maybe I have... But any ways I kill a pack of 2 ravys and 1 sakura all bunched up with 2 shots who would have killed a passing APC (some one managed to get 500$) that ended up killing the obilisk and letting us win the game i ended up with about 20 some kills at the end but not MVP

Good ol' days...

Slicer if you kid nap Kirovy take along a camcorder

The map was Field and I was doing my usual sniping run in the Tunnels as a Deadeye. One Stealth Blackhand had a Railgun and kept taking pot shots at me and ran away to re-cloak. Later on in the game I was sniping down the Airstrip entrance. I then proceeded the central area of the Tunnel and decided to fire my rifle to see if I would luckily hit any Stealth Blackhand cowards. I was next to where the crate spawns. I aimed at the entrance at the waterfall. Boink, I got a headshot on a cloaked Stealth Blackhand.
