I picked this game up for Christmas, being the C&C fan that I am. I was surprised at what an active community this game has. Well, anyway, I'm using ASE as my server browser. Is that best? I think that server are hosted on both WOL and through GameSpy, is that correct?

Also, what are some of the most played custom maps? I'm not able to play on a lot of server because I don't have the map. What's a good site for this? I've also seen talk of mods for Renegade that are Red Alert and Tiberian Sun mods. Where can I get these? Thanks

Yes you can play on both WOL or GameSpy.

I prefer WOL mode as it has a global ladder, and also you have extra ability to /page, /invite, /locate people.

As for popular maps, you can check out the ratings of maps on renmaps.com (<http://www.renmaps.com/index.php?action=category&id=2>), Servers running maps you don't have will show as greyed out in the WOL server browser.

Welcome to Renegade, if you have any more questions just post them and someone will help you.

P.S. Just wondering, how did you find these forums?

If you like big servers, I suggest Renstations Fan Map servers if you ever get bored, you can download a map pack of theirs on their site <http://www.renstation.net>.

Another quality server is The Pitts.

WELCOME TO THE COMMUNITY!

I saw the link to this board on the Renegade board at <http://www.gamefaqs.com>. That's one of the best places I've found for FREE boards and FAQs/Guides.

Thanks for the answers, I'll check those sites out.

SilentHawk,
plenty of servers running custom maps:

Unrules.com, only WOLSPY (both gamespy and WOL people can play on same server at same time) server running custom maps: <http://www.unrules.com> to download.
renwars, most popular GSA custom map server, <http://www.renwarz.com> renstation, most popular WOL custom map server, <http://www.renstation.net>
