Can anyone hook me up with a link to the original renalert and all the patches?

I would find it myself but im at school right now and dont have much time to go finding it.

And...it might not be an issue but just incase it is - how do i install the patches?

TY

Download .991 and then the .991 > .992 patch. That's what I did.

K i downloaded .991

and .991 > .992

I installed .991

But now what?

How do i use the patch?

I double click it and it asks me where i want to install it to...where do i put it?

Hmm, the RenAlert dir sounds like a good place to put the RenAlert patch.

I tried that - It gives me a warning message

"Old file not found. However, a file of the same name was found. No updates done since file contents do not match."

Don't worry about that dumb warning, just keep clicking ok. It will pause at 92% because it's working on the always.dat, give it a couple minutes and it will be done .

The speed seems to increase with the badger badger song going on in the background.

It takes 2 seconds to patch it for me - when i try to host one of the new maps it crashes to the desktop and theres no tanks or beacons either

You did install into a directory completely different to Renegade right?

Some people have installed it to their Renegade/Data directory and were surprised when they encountered problems.

This is exactly whats happening to me too. People were saying to patch it in the right order; but I did that too, as well as the proper directory.

i downloaded the first patch, and it didn't work, so i downloaded it again and did a few things and it works.

[a] go to start: run. run regedit. go to C:/Westwood/RenAlert. Under version, if it says 0 change it to a 1.

[b] copy the file Game from your Renegade folder into your RenAlert folder.

[c] you may have to download

<http://support.microsoft.com/default.aspx?scid=kb;en-us;290887>]this file
