Here

Take a wild guess who did it? Our good buddy, Abbarrat, also known as Ty, creator of FinalRenegade. He thinks that by hacking a server, he's going to bully the server owners into unbanning him from the Renegade servers they run.

Do you think they will give in? Would you?

Bah! He wrecks the game with a hack then hacks your forums. Why is the guy still playing the game if he has to cheat to win.

OT: Just wondering why hub.n00bstories.com translates to <http://www.cia.gov> ?

Dur. Isn't it obvious?

n00bstories = CIA. That's why we're launching Renguard to steal your CD keys and never letting you play again! Wahahahaha!!!!

hub.n00bstories.com points to cia.gov so any DoS attacks on the domain name forward to the CIA

Sadly, Speedy used a very easy password. He's out of town so those of us asked to watch things have pretty much taken care of things.

Well just do what you can to protect yourself. Make some impossible password that nobody can remember or brute-force like a cdkey or something.

Another hack in a community I visit. Damn I hate hackers. Another forum I frequent was deleted by some guy who got pissed off with the fact that he was banned. (ass hole btw) So he breaks in, changes the main page into some weird shit, and deletes all but one of the forums, banned some of the mods and posted up all this weird shit about how jesus died for us and all that. Some guys just don't know when they're not wanted.

After going through all the trouble to hack into the CIA's system, why the hell would your friend download MS Publisher? That program sucks! It's like sneaking in to a toy store after it closes and taking a piece of bubble gum you found stuck under the table.

Because he didn't want to d/l it off of KaZaa. It would most likely be fake.
