EVA Database Renegade Image Gallery

This is my collection of C&C Renegade pictures from the past and the present.
Currently there's over 170 pictures in the gallery. I am adding more pictures to the gallery every week as if more pics are found.

I've just seen it. I've gotta say you've done a great job collecting that many old pics though... well done.

I added some more pictures.
Still left to add Quake3's Renegade mod screenshots, mod college photos, a couple wallpapers and photos of the development team.

Titan1x77umm whats this quake 3 mod??

Well, it was a Renegade mod for Quake 3.
It was hosted at Eclipse mods.
But the mod apparently died together with the Eclipse network.

All the pictures are already up, but I need to add them to gallery database.

I love some of those pictures. I kind of wish they would have kept that buggy and that orca carrier, although, if they would have made that buggy, they would have made some code for the people to actually be seen inside the vehicle (kind of like Battlefield 1942). I like how Sole Survivor is making Renegade how it once was, but I wish they used the old beta models.

I love that Commando site though, keep up the good work!

They did (look at Nod Buggy video), but I assume they removed it when they were optimizing the game for multiplayer.

Wow, that's pretty cool. I suppose the problem with that is that the guy can get shot while driving? And if they were to keep it empty, it would confuse people. If only we knew why so many things changed in Renegade.

Maybe, but it is realistic. Anyway, if you drove a Nod Buggy at full speed, it would be unlikely to get hit. The thing goes at least 60 kilometers per hour (37 MPH).

I like seeing all of the beta stuff because some of it looks better than the current stuff. I wish someone could redo all of the Renegade weapons to match the beta ones. It was awesome how the beta had a lot of real guns. It made Renegade seem a lot more realistic.

MrBobYeah, I try accessing it directly but I get a 403.

Cannis (host) apparently put a access file to prevent file leechs. Fixed it now (sort of). Directly accessing the directories forwards back to gallery.
