I give up. I can not find the Starcraft cinematic "Battle on the Amerigo" anywhere. I've searched the CD and all I know is that it is hidden within the CD and I cannot find out how to get it.

That cutscene's awesome.

I have no clue whatsoever where that cutscene might be on the disk, but when you install it, it gives you the option to load the cutscenes to your disk, I think...I'd install it with that option and see what it gives you.

If that doesn't work, you could rig up a high quality digital camcorder to a tripod and stick it right in front of your computer monitor. Then, just record the cutscene a couple times with different lighting and stuff.

If my memory serves me correctly, it's the one where the Science Vessel is operating in deep space and pulls up to a little dingy boat thing. A small group of marines goes in to the dingy with a cold fusion bomb to blow it up in case there are zerg. They wait for a second, then zerg come from all sides. Then one of the marines [he might be a ghost, but it's irrelevant] detonates the bomb, and blows up the dingy and the science vessel.

Oh, one more thing: If you really need to get that cutscene, Blizzard sells all of it's Starcraft cutscenes on a collection DVD. It's pretty cool, and costs about 15 dollars.

Awe you didn't explain it too it's greatness.

It starts off with a tiny space based landing craft heading towards the derelict science vessel. They force the door open and a Ghost leads in like five marines into a tiny central room. He looks around and removes his special trinoculars and looks around. The marines set down the cold fusion bomb and then one presses the button. After opening the case you see a cold fusion bomb on ice with some beers in it.

After it opens you hear one of the marines say "Thank God for cold fusion." They talk casually for a few seconds and one marine says after opening his beer. "I got your Zerg right here hehe." which right after saying that his face explodes with a scythe coming through it. The Hydralisk that kills him drags the twitching body to the ceiling causing the other marines and ghost to get there weapons ready.

They see the zerg coming down the hallways and begin the best cutscene firefight I have ever seen. You hear screaming, guns blazing, and just greatness in this cinematic and after the Hyrdalisk dropped one of the marines the ghost spazs and hits the button blowing the Vessel to pieces.

Now I will try that installation thing and hope it works but if it doesn't I might go with the DVD.

A cutscene DVD from all C&C's would be awesome...too bad EA doesn't care about Westwood whatsoever
