Ummmmm why do you need another serial? Up to 4 people on different nicks can log onto WOL at one time with the same ren CD key.

Maybe your right...But everytime I've tried to log into WOL for the first time with a new serial it says something like " your serial is being used by another person".

So to prevent this happening for like the 6th time I'm gonna get a serial that I know will work.

Ok? you can't blame me there?

Hi,

I have a working unused serial that I would be willing to trade so I can get my second FDS up. However, because you are so new here I would like someone to act as some sort of an escrow between us so we can get the serials switched with minimal risk.

Thats why I was saying have someone act as an escrow and hold both serials untill they both are sent, then send them to each other.

ALSO: Turn off caps fool!
