Many thanks and congratulations to Taximes for designing the new RenGuard official website! This design is very versatile and should suit our needs for a long time to come! New features will appear on the site as we get closer to the official release of RenGuard!

Visit the new site at <http://www.renguard.com>

At this point, I have copied all the content to the new design, but I haven't YET added any new features. However, mac has given me a lot of work to do on the site to support and enhance the RenGuard network, so there will be new things to enjoy soon.

Looks great crimson

Suggesting: Try changing the content font to something besides Times New Roman.

Um, I haven't revised the content in a while. I do realize it's out of date, but that was the only time I could spare while I was at work.

If you could tell me privately what in particular you had a problem with, I'll be glad to update the site.

Well Renardin6 is on the Rengaurd team and i have been sending him cheats that i have found such as like 10 bullets or big body or head hacks and damage. Here is a link that has damage hacks, and the criminsons final renegade and bighead and more heads then another damage hack. I'm also a homosexual who likes to stick my thumb up my ass while I whack off.

Can the link be removed, it looks real.

Edit: LMAO apparently "Crimson" and "Aircraftkiller" make cheats for renegade now.
