Since there is still no support for german visitors around I'd like to say two things:

First: I'm inviting all native german users to visit us at CnC Foren

Second: Crimson, Blazer, as we have the largest community board around I'd appreciate if you could implement a link, looking as if it would be one of these forums, towards our renegade forum. That way you would not have to take care about germans grin
If you do I would create a style for our board that would copy the look and feel, just like you did

I was more than happy to host the Deutches Forum in here and even give the same moderators their access, but Ted has linked them to your forums. I'll add a link for you, though.

Sorry, didn't realize that.....

Anyway, thanx....

I'm on my way to create a style, I'll post the url, containing the StyleID as soon as I'm done
