Evo from what I read you think you have to "Pay to Play" for HALO? You buy disk and play the game, there is no other fees. So I ask you... How does it cost anything to play HALO other than the cost of the disk which you already have?

Mississippi? Don't you mean from NY to Wisconsin? Since K9 is in Milwaukee, I would think you would need to go to Wisconsin. Or is this an attempt to get AWAY from K9? DUMBASS!!!

dumb fuck, you didn't specify that it was Xbox Live, usually when you say you're switching from Game-X to Game-Y, it usually is the same platform you're talking about. Afterall, you can buy Halo for PC as well.

lol he is right halo isn't play able on the Xbox live. You need either "Xbox connect" or the "Gamespy Arcade" to play it over the internet. But both of the programs are pretty much free and you need to hook the x-box to the internet via a computer to play it.
