Also, I got a few videos.

Uber sedan race

Driving on air

And finally, just this second-long clip.

^^ I saw him drive near the edge, so I activated fraps (it takes my FPS down to like 9, thus causing SFPS lag) and lagged him off the cliff. Evil, I know.

Nope...
It's too heavy, even for 2 chinooks...

Yea, we tried a double-chinook, but the mammoth just falls off. Maybe with proper co-ordination and timing to lift at the same time and shit you could get it.

What I really want to do is join some all out server with someone that's good at it, lift an artillery up to the cliff and attack the GDI buildings, see all the "WTF"s, and see if it ends up getting banned as an exploit.

btw exorcist mine is different because I included videos and a sedan race

Me and several others got a mammoth on the hill in the middle with 3 chinook (2 held it up while the other stablized it) and an orca witch didnt do much. But i lost the screen shots when i deleted the some 3500 I had trying to make room for Vice City :/ So it is posible.
