Yea since I can't at the moment get into the server owners room, Ill post it here! I saw on WOL that some guy was running single player maps for like a lot of people...I tried to do it but I guess I need a patch or something to do it! What do I need and where can I get it?

Thanks!

This wont work correctly, there arent enough spawn points so as a result all the players will spawn meshed together and will be stuck. Also, you need to put the always.dat in the server folder.

Using LE to add spawn points will work correctly. There is currently no patch to install for them.
